

FLOODS TAKE HEAVY TOLLS IN C. AMERICA

Haiti, Honduras and Nicaragua Report Many Fatalities

BULLETIN

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The government today broadcast radio warnings to the inhabitants of the one around the city of Tegucigalpa, ordering them to start for the mountains at once before the area is inundated by a river flood.

With all land communications disrupted, officials were unable to determine how many persons in the danger area could escape.

Government reports show that the river Comayagua was terrifically swollen by rains and was on its way to the Atlantic in a great flood, wrecking everything along its banks.

Authorities feared that when the Comayagua flood converges with the waters of the Ulu river, into which it flows, a tremendous flood will rise over the lowlands of the north.

BULLETIN

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Reports from Cape Gracias a Dios today said all but six houses have been demolished by the storm. The refugees are living in the customs house.

An air survey, the report added, indicates that the entire Coco river valley has been severely struck by the storm. Thousands are homeless and the food situation critical. All plantations were devastated, with the damage expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Coco river has risen 40 feet at a point 140 miles from its mouth. It is impossible to determine the number of casualties at present.

Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, Oct. 28.—(AP)—At least 2,000 persons are dead or missing in a storm which ravaged the southern peninsula of Haiti.

Most of the casualties were caused by floods which followed the hurricane a week ago. Thousands were reported homeless and hungry.

Populations of valley villages were believed to have been wiped out as rains sent the streams from their channels, demolishing the trail, thatched huts of the natives.

Information received here indicated the bodies of most of the missing were swept out to sea.

Official reports, based on fragmentary data gathered by a small airplane, the only means of communication with the stricken districts, doubled the number of dead or missing after initial estimates Saturday had put the toll at possibly 1,000.

Relief operations could not be instituted until the arrival of the Standard Fruit steamer, Truxton, delayed by strong winds north of Cuba. The boat was expected today.

Jamel, a community on the south shore of the Peninsula almost directly across from Port-Au-Prince, already has yielded 96 bodies.

Jeremie, on the north shore near the western tip of the peninsula, apparently was hardest hit.

Only piecemeal reports from the two communities, however, were available to officials here. One said a bridge was wiped out over the Grande Anse river near Jeremie. The Voldroque and Roseaux rivers roared over their banks and deluged adjacent farmlands.

Reports said the hydro-electric plant at Jamel was destroyed. Rehabilitation work had to be carried on without light or water.

Residents of U. S. are Heavy Winners

Dublin, Irish Free State, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Residents of the United States, taking four of the ten residual and 400 of the 900 consolation prizes, continued their streak of luck in the Irish Hospital's sweepstakes draw up to noon today.

When the luncheon adjournment came, they held better than 40 per cent of the tickets.

The morning's takings earmarked almost another quarter of a million dollars for the trans-Atlantic payment. Four hundred more names were to be drawn in the afternoon.

CONFERENCE OPENS

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—The fortieth annual meeting of the Illinois conference on social welfare opened here today for a four-day meeting. The conference is composed of social welfare agencies and workers of the state. Governor Henry Horner will be among the speakers.

Trusses Handy

Atlanta, Oct. 28.—(AP)—George Fields would have been safer last night in a bathing suit.

Two bandits, he told police, held him up.

With his belt they tied his hands.

With his necktie they tied his feet.

With his handkerchief they gagged him.

With his $7.50 they escaped.

CUTTING SCRAPE AT DANCE HALL

Sheriff Closes "Black and Tan" Resort on Pump Factory Road

Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy Gilbert Finch were called to the Wilbur Pierce beer tavern and dance hall south of the city limits on the Pump Factory road Saturday night about 11 o'clock where the proprietor reported a cutting affray as having taken place. Pierce went to the county jail to report to the sheriff, with the result that the resort is closed under the sheriff's orders.

Frank Richards of this city and Ernest Moore, both colored, were reported to have engaged in an argument over the selection of partners for a dance, with the result that Moore wielded a knife, slashing Richards on the left cheek. Moore was arrested later in front of Matt Goodwin's home in the southwest section of the city, while discussing the cutting. A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was preferred by Richards before Justice Grover Gehant this morning and Moore was to be arraigned for preliminary hearing this afternoon.

Sheriff Miller, on his arrival at the resort, ordered all of the patrons to leave and instructed the proprietor to close the place, which is to remain closed until the county liquor commission can meet at which time Sheriff Miller stated he would recommend the cancelling of the license. A car in which two local white men and three colored women were passengers, arrived at the place while the sheriff was making his investigation and were ordered to leave the premises at once.

The place which had been operating but two weeks, had been known as the "black and tan club" by county officials, and had been visited several times by Sheriff Miller and his deputies during the brief period of its operation. Sheriff Miller stated this morning that he would oppose the licensing of any place in Lee county where conditions such as prevailed at the Pierce tavern exist.

Titled Twins Died Soon After Birth

London, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Twin boys born to Lady Charles Cavendish and her titled husband Saturday lived only a short time, it was announced today.

Lady Cavendish is the former Adele Astaire, sister of Fred Astaire, the dancer. She and Lord Cavendish were married in May, 1932.

The death of the babies was the second bereavement to visit the Cavendish home in a little more than two years. In October, 1933, their first child, a girl, died when only three hours old.

Lady Cavendish's condition was reported today as "very satisfactory."

Over 80 Japanese Miners Die in Blast

Tokyo, Oct. 28.—(AP)—An explosion in a coal mine near Fukuoka, on the Japanese island of Kyushu, was believed today to have taken more than 80 lives. The bodies of 42 miners were recovered, and 41 other miners were listed as missing. It was regarded almost as a certainty they were dead.

Reports Circulated in Chicago That Dixon Airport is Not Approved by Government are False

Reports which have been circulating that Dixon's airport is not accredited by the Illinois Aeronautics Commission or the Department of Commerce are false. Dement, Schuler of the airport commission here said today, and the rumors have been traced to Chicago.

The rumors arose from a controversy which arose between Dixon and Sterling a few weeks ago when Cecil Hamilton, prominent Polo aviator, was directed from the Chicago Municipal airport to land at Sterling upon receiving information that Dixon's port was not in condition for fliers and that hangar facilities were not available.

In inquiring by letter of Arch Hamilton, father of Cecil, Mr. Schuler learned that someone in the Chicago port was misinform-

RUSSIA JOINS IN SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY

Japan and Germany to Follow Example of United States

War Summary

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On the Roman front, the twentieth anniversary of Fascism's rise to power in Italy, drove deeper into the Ethiopian interior. On the northern front, they advanced the lines in the Aduwa-Adigrat area 12 miles.

Reports to Djibouti said the southern Italian forces have crossed more than half the Ogaden desert in their advance on the Ethiopian highlands.

With the new Italian advance, European capitals were pessimistic over the chances for a quick end to the Fascist invasion; hopes for early peace went a-glimmering.

The League of Nations sanctions war against Italy was given new strength. France notified Geneva it would put the "buy nothing from Italy" economic boycott into effect within four days.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Anthony Eden defended their actions in the Afro-European crisis in the British parliament campaigns.

Geneva, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Russia today joined other powers in proclaiming an economic boycott of Italy as a League of Nations sanction.

Moscow telegraphed to the League announcing the Soviet's readiness to impose an embargo on the exportation of key products which can be used for the making of war munitions from Russia to Italy and an embargo on all importations into Russia from Italy. Japan and Germany today gave League officials reason to believe they will pattern their policies after that of the United States with respect to League sanctions against Italy.

Both the Japanese and the German delegations eagerly inquired after the text of the note from Washington, responding to the League's notification of its judgment against Italy.

Reply Encouraging League officials believe the American reply distinctly encouraging to its efforts to hasten the end of the war. They also believe Japan and Germany will do nothing to wreck the League sanction machinery against Mussolini, which the American note described by implication as a machinery of peace.

An authoritative Japanese spokesman told The Associated Press Japan has refrained from granting any licenses for the shipment of armaments or war materials either to Ethiopia or Italy. This policy, he added, will doubtless be continued without the formality of Japan proclaiming an arms embargo.

Newspapers announced Switzerland has voted an embargo on arms destined for Italy and Ethiopia, the measure also prohibiting the transit of arms across Switzerland. It also accepted financial and economic sanctions against Italy with the reservation that Switzerland will permit the purchase of Italian goods in sufficient quantity to counter-balance its sales to Italy authorized by the League, whose embargo on exports to Italy applies only to key products.

Line Up Swiftly Member states lined up swiftly today in favor of sanctions against Italy to force a halt to its warfare on Ethiopia.

BROKEN PLEDGE CHARGE OF K. C. TO ROOSEVELT

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is held responsible for "non-action on behalf of bleeding and oppressed Mexico" in a letter to him made public by the supreme board of directors of the Knights of Columbus.

The letter, signed by Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight, and William J. McKinley, Supreme Secretary of the order, declares the president promised a committee to voice a protest against the Mexican government's attitude toward the church, and had broken the promise.

The writers say the president's remarks concerning religious intolerance at San Diego on his recent western tour were insufficient. "You made no reference to Mexico. You refrained from expressing any sympathy for the weak and down-trodden people of that oppressed land," it says.

The letter also asserts it is "publicly recognized" that the president directed the Borah resolution, providing for an investigation of conditions in Mexico, held in a congressional committee.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BIG PARADE

Eight Classifications Specific in Plans for Festival March

Arrangements for the Halloween festival parade have been completed and prizes will be awarded in eight different sections of the procession. Fred Ruben of the parade committee said this morning.

The parade prizes will be awarded for costumes, scooters and wagons, bicycles, wheel barrows, etc., antique cars, floats, pets, and also prizes for the sub-divisions under the pet section including the largest dog, smallest grown dog, most unique pet. The eighth section of the parade will be the unique section including clown bands, etc.

The parade will in general, follow the line of march chosen by June. It will start at the Legion House. It will start at the Legion house, proceed south on Peoria avenue to Third street, east on Third street to Crawford, north on Crawford to First and west on First street through the business district.

The arrangements will be conclusive unless further notice is made. Harold G. Boltz said today that the jack-o-lantern face contest has been extended to Wednesday at 5 P. M. and that all entries for prizes should be at the Chamber of Commerce office at that time.

Joe Eichler, R. W. Bogue and Glenn Cortright were soliciting merchants today for small financial contributions. Due to the appreciated cooperation of the merchants the financial success of the Festival venture seems assured.

TWO MILWAUKEE BANKS BOMBED; NO ONE INJURED

Milwaukee, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Federal agents joined police today in a widespread hunt for the occupants of a small gray car seen fleeing from the scene of two First Wisconsin National branch bank bombings last night.

No one was injured, although extensive damage was suffered at the citizens' branch in North Milwaukee. The bomb planted at the east side office damaged automobiles parked nearby, but not the building.

Police, who linked the blasts to the dynamiting of the village hall in suburban Shorewood Saturday night, said a fuse found in debris indicated the explosives were part of the loot stolen from the Estabrook Park dynamite dump Oct. 3.

Only a meager description of the fleeing automobile was obtained although scores of pedestrians and motorists were endangered by both blasts.

Mystery in Death of Kewanee Service Station Attendant

Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Charles A. Woodin, 46-year-old World War veteran, was found shot to death early today at the Pinkies service station and restaurant where he was employed as night attendant.

A milkman found the body behind a counter in the restaurant. A .32 caliber bullet had passed through Woodin's chest and penetrated a coffee urn behind him.

Police scouted the theory that Woodin was the victim of a robbery. They pointed out that no money had been taken from the cash register and that the victim himself had not been robbed. Woodin was not known to have had any enemies, police said they were told.

Police said they were checking a party which the victim was said to have attended before reporting for duty last night.

Five Persons in Depot at Stratford Escape as Train Wrecks Building

Laden Freight Car Leaves Tracks at 9:05 This Morn

A wreck, believed to have been caused by a broken flange on the wheel on a loaded freight car attached to east bound extra freight train No. 82 on the Burlington line, demolished the depot, splintered seven freight cars, all loaded, and strewn wreckage for a quarter of a mile along the tracks at Stratford, ten miles northeast of Dixon this morning at 9:05 o'clock. The east bound train was speeding to Oregon to allow the Burlington Zephyr, west bound, to pass when the wreck occurred.

The lives of five persons in the depot were endangered when the car, loaded with sacked potatoes, left the rails, crossing over the platform, crashing into the west end of the building, tearing it from its foundation and practically demolishing the structure. Carl Powell and Ed Withers of Stratford, James Carey of Aurora, conductor on a work train which was on a side track waiting for the freight train to pass, and H. E. Martin of Oregon, signal maintainer, together with five-year-old Patsy Wolfe, daughter of the Stratford station agent, were in the building at the time. Conductor Carey picked up the little girl and all five persons unscathed and unhurt, crawled through an opening made by the collapse of the building.

Seven Cars Wrecked.

The body of the car crashed into the station building, tearing out the sides of the car and strewn bags of potatoes over the platform and tracks. Seven cars in all were either demolished or reduced to wreckage. All were loaded with sacked potatoes, shelled corn and barley en route from Savannah to Chicago. The train came to a stop and the part ahead of the wreckage proceeded on to Oregon. The west bound Zephyr was able to pass the wreck on a side track which was empty. The wrecking crane and crew from Aurora were expected to arrive after the noon hour to begin clearing up the wreckage.

In the meantime railroad officials from Savannah arrived on the scene in a motor car and started an investigation to determine the cause of the wreck. Deputies from the office of Sheriff Delos Blanchard at Oregon were rushed to the scene to guard the property until railroad officials arrived. It was estimated, spectators stated, that the train was travelling at a speed of more than 50 miles an hour when the first car suddenly left the track dragging six more after it. A number of car loads of stock were near the end of the train but none of those were injured. Only a very small part of the track was torn up.

SUPREME COURT TO ACT ON AAA THIS DECEMBER

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Supreme Court announced that constitutionality of the agriculture adjustment administration act will be argued December 9, thus making possible a decision by Christmas.

Representatives of the government and the Hoosac Mills Corporation of Massachusetts will defend and assail the AAA processing taxes.

Thomas J. Mooney lost again in his effort to get the Supreme Court to review his conviction of complicity in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day parade bombing.

The court refused to reconsider its recent decision to pass on the controversy which still is pending before the California Supreme Court.

Mooney is serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary.

Two Boys Died in Their Burning Home

Spartanburg, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Fire, believed to have been caused by exploding kerosene, today caused the death of Jock and Jean McKeel, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKeel, living on a farm four miles west of here.

Mrs. McKeel, seriously burned in the blaze which destroyed the home, could give few details of the holocaust, but indications were she had used kerosene in kindling the kitchen fire this morning.

The bodies of the two children, 5 and 4 years old, were found in the ashes of the house by neighbors who unsuccessfully combatted the flames.

The father was not at home when the fire started.

Police Puzzle

Durham, N. C., Oct. 28.—(AP)—John S. Stewart, 25, drove his automobile toward a street intersection, John S. Stewart, 24, drove his machine toward the same intersection—from another direction. They crashed. Police attempting to determine the guilty party, gave up.

ATTORNEY DIXON ASKS MANDAMUS

Seeks Court Writ Compelling Judge Leech to Accept $12,000 Bond

Litigation in the late Kate B. Steward estate continued to pile up in the Lee county courts today.

When mandamus proceedings were instituted by counsel for Attorney George C. Dixon, naming County Judge William L. Leech as defendant, the action in the Circuit Court seeks to compel Judge Leech to approve a bond in the sum of $12,000 without delay.

The action involves a ruling by Judge Leech in the county court with relation to a fee amounting to $6,000 claimed by Attorney Harold Neff of Rochelle for administering the estate, which was opposed and an appeal taken to the Circuit Court. The appeal bond was set at $12,000 by Judge Leech, and in the mandamus action, the plaintiff contends that the amount of the bond required was unwarranted, unreasonable, excessive, unjustified and without authority of law.

The latest action sets forth that on June 3 of this year, the plaintiffs endeavored to comply with the order of the county judge and filed with the clerk of the county court an appeal bond in the sum of $12,000, which was signed by James A. Steven of Chicago, and S. E. Leeman of Wilmette as sureties. The affidavit of Leeman, it is claimed, is missing from the files of the county clerk and after a diligent search, cannot be found.

Judge Harry McEwen of DeKalb County, presided this morning at a hearing on a citation which summoned Attorney Dixon into the county court. Last week, Attorney Dixon filed a motion for a change of venue which resulted in Judge McEwen's being called to Dixon to preside at the hearing. Counsel for Attorney Dixon this morning filed a motion to dismiss the citation and Judge McEwen set Nov. 2 as the date for the hearing.

Two Plead Innocence in Bremer Kidnaping

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—(AP)—William Weaver and Harry Sawyer, defendants in the 200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping case, pleaded innocent to kidnap and conspiracy charges in Federal district court today.

Weaver was indicated as one of the actual kidnapers while Sawyer was named as "finger man." Several others, including Arthur (Doc) Barker, are serving prison terms following conviction in connection with the abduction of the banker.

Father of Congressman Allen is Dead

Galena, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Alphonzo Arthur Allen, 71, father of Congressman Leo E. Allen of Galena, died here today at the home of his son. Three daughters, Mrs. Raymond B. Lawton and Mrs. David O. Willette of Rockford, Mrs. William Powell of Oak Park, and another son, Wilbur, of Albert Lea, Minn., also survive. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday.

Thousands of Wild Geese Face Death on Brink of Niagara Falls; Heavy Haze Settles Over Them in River

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A heavy haze in which wild geese will not rise threatened wholesale death for more than 5,000 of the birds today as they made slowly weakening efforts on the brink of Horseshoe Falls to defy the swift moving current in which they took haven yesterday en route from Canada to the south.

The haze fell over the Niagara river and the cataract this morning like a heavy blanket, blotting out all view of the geese. Meanwhile Canadian and American authorities were seeking frenziedly for some method to scare the birds from their dangerous, annual stop. The haze made the efforts of the officials more difficult.

Rockets, searchlights and shot-guns have been used already in an effort to frighten the birds, to no avail.

A few of the geese were frightened away before the haze dropped over the water, but many were believed to be fast nearing death in a plunge over the big cataract. Some already have been seen plunging to their end in the roaring, swirling pools of angry foam at the bottom of the falls.

VOTE ON CORN-HOG CONTRACT CALLED FRAUD

Head of Holiday Assn. Decries Election Which Carried

BULLETIN

Des Moines, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Milo Reno, national president of the Farmers Holiday Association and militant AAA opponent, charged today that the national corn-hog referendum was "the biggest fraud ever perpetrated on the American people."

"I am surprised that they (the AAA) didn't get a bigger majority than they did in view of the tactics employed (in the referendum)," Reno said.

"They sent out up to 70 paid experts to a county to influence the farmers to vote. They had both the election officers and the tellers. They cast aside all the rules governing an honest contest."

"It would be interesting to know how much the government spent to swing the election. I am not at all discouraged at the results. I am only surprised they didn't get more votes."

8 TO 1 IN STATE.

(Complete Lee county vote on page 10 of this paper.)

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Illinois corn-hog farmers, by a ratio of about 8 to 1 on the basis of incomplete returns from 43 counties today expressed an overwhelming desire for continuance of AAA allotments.

The poll, conducted on a nationwide basis last Saturday, was held by AAA officials as endorsement of the program.

Illinois figures: 17 counties complete: Signers—Yes, 10,268; no, 773. None-signers—Yes, 1,941; no, 932.

26 counties complete: Yes—16,176 No, 2,142.

Grand totals—Yes, 28,385; no, 3,247.

TO INCREASE PRODUCTION.

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Obviously pleased at the majority piled up for a 1936 corn-hog control program, AAA chiefs planned today to answer some of their critics by increasing pork production next year.

Last returns showed that 363,705 farmers favored an adjustment program while 63,438 opposed it. The total represented only a fraction of the 4,500,000 who produced some corn and hogs this year. But AAA officials said at least 2,500,000 farmers raised corn and hogs for home consumption only.

25 Pct. Increase. It was indicated the pork production increase would be 25 to 30 per cent over this year.

Present high prices of pork have been much under discussion recently, with critics of the New Deal stressing them, and AAA officials saying that the shortage of hogs was caused by the not by the AAA policy of controlled production.

While the aim will be to increase production Secretary Wallace was quick to assert that efforts will be made to avoid "excessive over-production in subsequent years."

Commending the producers for their favorable vote, Wallace said: "They realize their triple duty: to the consumer; to the cause of soil conservation; and to the maintenance of a fair income for themselves."

May Exceed Last Poll.

Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, said the early returns indicated the total vote might exceed the 579,716 ballots cast last year and added:

"In that event we would, in my opinion, have an expression which would effectively represent the views of the men who produce most of the country's corn and hogs."

He also asserted the farmers did not make a political issue of the question of whether there should be a 1936 program, saying they had voted "economics, not politics."

There was much speculation as to what effect the referendum would have on the 1936 political campaign. Some Republicans have been hammering away at AAA as "un-American regimentation," while others have shown a disposition to refrain from attacking this New Deal policy strongly, or even to favor some of it. Whether the poll would lend strength to the latter school of thought was a subject under discussion.

Non-Contract Signers—Yes, 219,804; No, 28,211.

Contract signers—Yes, 219,804; No, 28,211.

Non-Contract signers—Yes, 33,128; no, 10,440.

TWO MEN FOUND DEAD IN EMPTY TANK THIS MORN

Clinton, Iowa, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Officials of the Clinton Company, corn processors, are making an exhaustive investigation today to determine the cause of death of Edwin H. Edens, 32, and Carl Carlson, 55, who were found dead early this morning in an empty tank.
Accumulation of carbon dioxide gas from fermentation of corn is advanced as a possible cause of death. The tank is an open one and has been cleaned on an average of once weekly since 1928 without difficulty. Both Edens and Carlson had performed the task many times.
Possibility that peculiar atmospheric conditions prevailing last night caused the accumulation of gas was suggested by the company's research chemists and fermentation experts who are seeking a solution of the mystery. Men who removed the bodies from the tank reported no difficulties.

Clinton, Iowa, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Officials of the Clinton Company, corn processors, are making an exhaustive investigation today to determine the cause of death of Edwin H. Edens, 32, and Carl Carlson, 55, who were found dead early this morning in an empty tank.
Accumulation of carbon dioxide gas from fermentation of corn is advanced as a possible cause of death. The tank is an open one and has been cleaned on an average of once weekly since 1928 without difficulty. Both Edens and Carlson had performed the task many times.
Possibility that peculiar atmospheric conditions prevailing last night caused the accumulation of gas was suggested by the company's research chemists and fermentation experts who are seeking a solution of the mystery. Men who removed the bodies from the tank reported no difficulties.

BEYOND REMEDY?

"Y EARS ago," writes a reader, "I made a bad mistake which I cannot forget, much less undo. It was worse than wicked; it was stupid. Unhappy results followed and they are still going on, alas."

"What the blunder was does not matter; it was foolish enough, but the fact is as it is, though I have regretted it times without end. Why do our sins and follies pursue us so relentlessly?"

There is no mistaking the facts that foolish deeds, like evil deeds, come home to roost. We cannot act stupidly and cruelly, even thoughtlessly, without suffering for it soon or late.

Yet we are not justified in saying of any situation that the case is hopeless, for it is not true. Even nature teaches us a lesson in this way; no sooner is a limb broken than she starts to mend it.

The same facts hold good of character and destiny; nothing is final unless we let it be so. The worst mistake may be redeemed; it may take time and toil, but there are no barred gates on the road.

Life does not end with our yesterday, and it knows no tomorrow. The fact as it is may remain, but our attitude toward it may be so changed that an error may be transformed into wings that lift.

Admit that the one all-pervading law of life is the law of cause and effect, does it cease to operate when our mistakes have brought disaster upon us? No, it goes on working, and we can use it for good.

Things do not stay put. Every result is followed by other results; it is ours to see that we make the best of them. The results of folly, and even sin, may be neutralized, as the sea purifies the sewer.

Finality is not in the sewer, but in the sea. My reader fails to distinguish between the man who wants to change the past and the man who does not care.

Also my reader forgets another fact—the greatest fact of both faith and life—the reality of forgiveness; that is, giving back what we have lost, a divine tide of love washing away our petty blunders!

Mrs. Hoover Opens Girl Scouts' Week

Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 28.—(AP) As Girl Scout week got under way throughout the country, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the former president, broke her rule against interviews today and explained some of the ideals of the girls' organization she heads.

"Neighborhood is one of the most important of the Girl Scout activities," Mrs. Hoover declared. She added that "neighborliness" is doubtless the most important factor connected with Girl Scout week, which opened yesterday.

"It is a time when the girls try definitely to have their neighbors learn more about them; learn that they are ever ready to be useful, friendly, cheerful and also ready for fun when duty does not call," she explained.

FOUNDERS OF PI BETA PHI HELD A MEMORIAL—

Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP) Founders of Pi Beta Phi, the first college sorority, were honored in a memorial service yesterday at Monmouth College, where the first chapter was formed.

Among the participants were Miss Margaret Campbell, the oldest living graduate of Monmouth College and one of the founders, Dr. James A. Grier, whose mother was a founder, and Miss Amy Onken, grand president.

MISS MARY HOBBS HERE TO ATTEND WEDDING

Miss Mary Hobbs was here Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Ellagren Shaw and Harold A. Green.

Miss Hobbs is a sorority sister of Mrs. Green, both belonging to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

ENTERTAINS EIGHT AT DINNER SUNDAY—

Miss Anna Geisenheimer entertained eight guests at dinner Sunday.

Tested RECIPES

By Mrs. Alexander George

HALLOWEEN "PARTY-GRAPHS"

The time is approaching when witches and hobgoblins will influence the frolics of the youngsters—and many grown-ups as well. Suggestions for "bewitching foods" are in order.

"When the Pumpkins Grin"

Orange juice, chilled or frozen, served with fancy sandwiches is fitting to serve for party, club or sorority refreshments.

"Features" can be traced easily on candles, cakes, cookies or sandwiches by using sweet chocolate, melted and applied on small wooden pick.

Use well formed pumpkin for holding picks, stuck with appetizers for serving with cocktails.

Yellow cream cheese fashioned into tiny "pumpkins" can accompany fruit or vegetable salad.

Popped corn or puffed wheat or rice balls, usually favorites, can be served, wrapped in orange colored crepe paper, covered with black cats cut from paper.

The traditional refreshments, doughnuts, cider and apples can have the serving varied by arranging doughnuts on handle of toy broom and pouring cider from large jug and placing apples in large wooden bowl.

Jack-O-Lantern Pie

1 baked pie shell
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1-8 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons cocoa
2 egg yolks
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend sugar with flour and salt. Add cocoa, yolks and milk. Cook until thick in double boiler. Stir frequently. Add vanilla and pour into pie shell. Arrange "features" on top using marshmallows. Make a "fringe" of meringue around sides of pie. Brown 5 minutes in moderate oven.

Meringue

2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
Beat whites until stiff. Add sugar and beat until creamy. Arrange a one inch rim or fringe of this mixture outlining the edge of pie.

Entertained With Treasure Hunt on Sunday Evening

Misses Emily Levan, Mary Hoffman, Leone Kreim, and Betty Haines entertained Sunday evening thirty young people with a treasure hunt.

At 7:30 they congregated at Levan's and received their first clue which took them to Grand Detour.

The second was at three pine trees and the third at Crawford's horse trough. After that they all spent most of their time at Cleon's trying to find the rest of the clues, taking them to the west end and a box car on the I. C., and to the Three Mile Branch, and last but not least, a stone quarry which no one could find, and when they did, the treasure was gone. After they all gave up refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. However, Chuck Marshall and his gang, including Sherlock Holmes Bovey, were entitled to the treasure because they had the most clues. In spite of rain everyone had a grand time, and after thanking their gracious hostesses departed for their homes at a late hour.

Mrs. Barlow Entertains Household Science Club Thurs.

The Dixon Household Science club met at the home of Mrs. Madge Barlow, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 24. The meeting was called to order by the vice president. Plans were discussed for a Halloween party to be held at the home of Mrs. Eva Murray, Wednesday evening, Oct. 30.

A corn game was won by Mrs. Ida Mundorf.

During the enjoyable social hour tempting refreshments were served.

The sawfly larva sprays its enemies with a shower of acid.

W.C.T.U. Meeting at W. D. Baum Home Of Much Inspiration

The Willard W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Baum and Mrs. Belle Morris, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 23. The president, Miss Callie Morgan, presided. The opening song, was "What a Friend We Have In Jesus." Mrs. J. F. Young led the devotional period. She chose the topic, "Are We Builders or Wreckers?" She read from Corinthians, 1st chapter. Truth is more powerful than falsehood. Love is better than hate. Be not weary in well doing for in due season we will reap if we faint not," closing with prayer.

Business session followed with Secretary, Miss Seals' report. Treasurer, Mrs. Frey, gave her report. Miss Morgan spoke of the "Voice," published by Miss Hubler. The paper was given to Mrs. Frey to be passed to members to be read. Announcement was given, that a meeting of the missionary societies would be held Nov. 1, in the M. E. church in the interest of "Christian Citizenship." A dinner will be served. The speaker will be Senator Gunning. The local union is invited to be present. Two new members were reported. Mrs. A. S. Derr in a fitting manner, gave a tender and loving memorial of Rev. Gilbert Stansell. "Not alone his church but our entire community, was saddened by the accidental and sudden call to a higher service of our beloved Brother Stansell. Not alone our local union but the Temperance cause feels a distinct loss in the departure of our brother beyond our visible horizon. His interest and sympathy were always on the side of the individual and community betterment. As one of the pastors of our city, our local union could rely on his helpfulness. He will be greatly missed, but the inspiration of his devoted life will continue to lead us on in the service of the King. To his wife who is a member of the Francis Willard Union, and to their family, in this time of bereavement we extend to them our sincere sympathy."

Mrs. Merion Mabey, who had attended the county convention in Rock Falls church brought a report which was replete with many activities and work accomplished. A fitting climax to the day's program was furnished by Captain May Orcheston of the Salvation Army, when she spoke of "Evangeline Booth and Temperance." At the close of her talk she sang, "The World for God" accompanied by her accordion. The Whiteside Co. Unions extended greetings to the Dixon Union.

Mrs. Alma Lewis Amboy, our Lee county president, brings to us a very good report of the state convention, in Carbondale, Oct. 1-4.

The first evening an executive meeting was held. I noted a few of the recommendations of the president, Mrs. Ferguson.

The name Alcohol Education Fund to be called Willard Centenary Educational Fund, adopted the name, "Youth's Temperance Council, instead of Young People's Branch. Instituted a department of Radio propaganda. The program of the afternoon was of an impromptu nature. Talks were given by the following, Rev. Burningham, Mrs. Farnsworth, Helen Byrnes, Miss Munna, Mrs. DeVoy, Rev. Williams, Mrs. Hagler.

Of the speakers said that beer was sold in the camps. The new national evangelist Mrs. Williams, led the devotions Wednesday morning. The superintendent of public schools, Normal, gave a talk. In it he said, "You're probably doing more than you think you are, as in the case of the 18th amendment. They had worked up to it through the years. As regards to making the world dry, 'It can be done.' The memorial service was given by Mrs. Ferguson, and she voiced the prayer that young women take the places of the ones who had passed on.

Miss Marshall reported 115 new unions and hoped to have a doubled membership next year. The evening address by Mrs. Ferguson was titled, "Lift up Thine Eyes." We must keep our eyes fixed on the hills and our young people's eyes lifted up and their brains clear.

Mrs. Hagler was elected state evangelist. She gave the devotions Thursday morning. Her subject, "No One Can Stir Your Soul Only So Far as It Has Been Stirred by Yourself." The aim, "Sirs, we would see Jesus."

The state contest director said there should be a contest in each town. Resolutions committee proposed for this year, "Abolition of Liquor traffic, build spiritually, endorse total abstinence instead of moderation. Talk, live and bring to pass, 'Peace' instead of 'war.'"

The consecration service was led by Ida B. Wise Smith. She spoke of friendship instead of wars. That liquor traffic cannot be controlled, but by prohibition. She regretted the loosening of the lottery demon in U. S. We must have the Supreme Court as our balance wheel. We are being ruled by mob system. Every protection is broken down. The brewer has a worse hold because he has the administration with him. The brewer sets in legislative halls and dictates, and always remember, the saloon has a new market, the women. My final plea is "Go after the youth and bring them into the work of temperance and total abstinence which is their only safeguard."

At the close of the pleasant and profitable meeting, the president Miss Morgan, called for a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Alma Lewis, for her splendid report. Meeting closed with all uniting in the song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Rep. Van der Vries Gives Address of Interest to Club

Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, one of the women members of the Illinois State Legislature, was the speaker at the Dixon Woman's club, Saturday, Oct. 26 at the Christian church. Her subject was "Adventures in Citizenship."

There are only two women who are members of the legislature, Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill and Mrs. Van der Vries. Very few women are free of more responsibilities enough to seek nomination for such an office.

Mrs. Van der Vries told of her personal experiences in campaigning and also as a member of the House of Representatives. She told in detail the workings of the legislature, how a bill was introduced committee hearings, voting, etc. She hopes that better method of committee hearings can be arranged which, she thinks, will improve the legislation.

Closing Mrs. Van der Vries urged women to take more interest in party politics and seek offices. Women are vitally interested in education and anything pertaining to the health and safety so should take a vital interest in politics.

Preceding the talk by Mrs. Van der Vries, Mrs. A. C. Bowers announced the next meeting Nov. 9 which is to be an all day institute under the direction of the American Tote and Garden Department.

She also asked all members who could to attend the regional meeting of Women's clubs to be held in Sycamore Oct. 29. Also the meeting of the Amboy Woman's club on Nov. 9.

Mrs. Albertine McKenney gave several short readings which were greatly enjoyed by the club.

The program for the afternoon was under the direction of the American Citizenship Department, Miss Vera Mae Poole is chairman.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Auman, Walder, H. M. Edwards, Robinson, Manthey, McDonald, Goff, Strook, Misses Flora Ceals and Holland.

Meeting of Willing Workers S. S. Class

The Willing Workers class of the Grace Evangelical church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Glessner, celebrating the first anniversary of the class.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Wilbur Schriener; vice president, Mrs. Ray Herbert; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harold Shearer.

After the business meeting games were enjoyed and delicious refreshments served.

RETURNS TO CHICAGO FOLLOWING WEDDING—

Miss Myra Alice Warner has returned to her school duties at the University of Chicago after attending the Shaw-Green wedding here.

At Christening

Bishop Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist church (above) christened Sunday, Oct. 27, Sylvia West Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeGrand Cannon, 218 S. Ottawa avenue.

Thirty of the baby's relatives and intimate friends of the family were present at the ceremony and luncheon immediately following.

It was also a birthday luncheon for the baby's grandfather, Roy O. West of Chicago, former Secretary of the Interior in the late President Calvin Coolidge's cabinet.

Mrs. Frank W. Howes of Chicago stood as godmother and Charles D. McWilliams, Jr., of Dwight, Ill., as godfather. Water from the River Jordan was used in the baptism. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Fleuhr were the only Dixon guests.

Twentieth Century Club Met Thursday

The Twentieth Century Literary Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. V. L. Carpenter.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. B. Ryan. The usual business was transacted. After roll call the following program was enjoyed:

New York Times by Mrs. C. H. Sargent.

Artists of the 19th Century by Mrs. Wilbur Winn.

During the social hour the hostesses served very tempting refreshments.

The next meeting will be Thursday evening, Nov. 14, with Mrs. Dale Cooper.

Thursday Reading Circle Meeting

The Thursday Reading Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clea Bunnell.

The program was in charge of Mrs. C. V. Chapman. The first number was a vocal duet and encore by Mrs. Nate Morrill and Mrs. Alfreda. The discussion was Ethopia. Miss Anna Meade reading the paper. She was assisted by other members.

The hostess, assisted by her granddaughter, Connie Bunnell, served delicious refreshments. Halloween decorations were used and each member received a favor.

Halloween Party for Zion Household Science Club Thurs.

The Zion Household Science club will meet with Mrs. James Miller of Nelson Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Carl Jansen and Miss Edna Jansen will be assistant hostesses.

The meeting assumed the form of a Halloween party and prizes will be given for the funniest and the prettiest costumes. Roll call is to be responded to with a favorite verse.

Annual Dance on Christmas Night

The annual holiday party and dance of St. Luke's church will be held at the Masonic Temple on Christmas night, it was announced today.

New Books Placed on Shelves Dixon Library Recently

Dwight Morrow—Nicolson. Expertly written biography of the eminent citizen whose death cut short a career surely on the rise.

Spring Came On Forever—Aldrich. The author of "A Lantern in Her Hand" tells the story of Amalia Stoltz who is falling in love with Matthias Meier, back in 1867 in Illinois, although betrothed to an older man, a friend of her father. The Stoltz family have taken the trek into Nebraska, and because of the difficulties of travel Matthias has been unable to circumvent the marriage.

Tobacco Road—Kirkland. This much discussed play, which has been acted before capacity audiences in New York and is now running in Chicago, cannot be regarded as other than a moving portrayal of degenerated life among the poor whites of the South. The play is based on the novel by Erskine Caldwell.

Story of America in Pictures—Collins. The glamorous history of the United States told in action pictures. The reader will see the outstanding events of its discovery, pioneering, wars for freedom and union, industrial development and progress to world leadership.

It Can't Happen Here—Sinclair Lewis. Lewis' story is that of Doremus Jessup, owner and editor of a liberal small-city newspaper in New England, who observes with alarm the obviously directed growth of fascism in the United States and watches Senator Windrip, aided by Bishop Prang's talks on the radio seize control of the government. The characters are patterned after American politicians, and the book will probably be a sensation.

Salamina—Rockwell Kent. Of all the women of Greenland the most capable, most faithful, most elegant, refined, most beautiful and altogether captivating was she named Salamina. Igdlorsuit is the name of a remote trading post in Greenland. Mr. Kent, who likes the strong and primitive, spent several winters there painting, working and going native. There are 22 full-page illustrations by the author.

Longest Years—Undset. Ingvald, the heroine of this slow, ruminate story of a Scandinavian childhood, is clearly a portrait of Undset herself as a little girl, and the values of the book, in consequence, are mainly autobiographical. Ingvald's tender relationship with her father, a famous archaeologist, is the central theme.

Golden Apples—Rawlings. The author of "South Moon Under" has written another novel of the wild Florida forest land whose brilliant semi-tropical color she creates so realistically. It is the dramatic struggle of a young Floridian and his sister for a living, and of the spiritual regeneration of an Englishman shipped off by his family to a land which, hating at first, he learns to love.

Modern Photography—Holme. The year's achievement is represented by nearly 100 examples chosen from the work of outstanding photographers all over the world.

Killer's Code—Sanders. Western story.

Garden Murder Case—Van Dine. Philo Vance again on the job with a neat puzzle involving a group of wealthy race horse players in pent house devilry.

Mrs. Astor's Horse—Stanley Walker. The author of "City Editor" writes a series of articles on the personalities whose activities have been responsible for the more flamboyant aspects of the American scene. The result is many laughs and some disgust. Some of the protagonists are Mae West, Hauptmann, Almee Sempie McPherson, Dion O'Bannon.

Honor Bound—Baldwin. A romance for those who like their stories light and airy.

Some American People—Caldwell. Mr. Caldwell travelled

through America in 1934-35, talking to people in the Northwest, the Midwest drought area, the Southern tenant farmer belt, and the inferno known as Detroit. This is a record of conversations with citizens who have nearly reached the end of their rope. Sharp, incisive writing, making for not especially pretty reading.

Diaghileff—Haskell. A complete, thoroughly informed biography of the super-impressionist, who vigorously defends Diaghileff against the melodramatic charges of Madame Nijinsky. Most readers of "Nijinsky" will want to read this.

Seven Pillars of Wisdom—Lawrence. The original 300,000 word story of Lawrence's Arabian adventure, first privately printed in 1922, and the version from which "Revolts in the Desert" was abstracted. Part military chronicles, and part great writing.

Girl Scout Handbook—For leaders and Scouts.

For Children. Movie-makers—Florenty.

Bob Gordon, Cub Reporter—Dean.

Automobiles from Start to Finish—Reck.

Anne at Work—Fayerweather.

Happy Birthday Surprise for Mrs. Wm. L. Leech Saturday Eve

Mrs. William L. Leech was the victim of a complete and well planned surprise Saturday evening, the event honoring her birthday. Mrs. Leech had spent the afternoon in Rockford with her daughter, Mrs. George McEwen of DeKalb and upon returning to Dixon, Mrs. McEwen drove to one of the cottages at the Flamm camp grounds. Here assembled, were a number of friends with Judge Leech as master of ceremonies. A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed and a most pleasant evening was spent. Judge Leech had very quietly planned the entire affair. Mrs. Leech received several nice gifts during the evening. The cottage was cleverly decorated with Halloween motifs and many contests provided entertainment during the evening. Mrs. Lucille Poole was the winner of the fried chicken eating contest. Miss Carol Kersten of near Ashton was the prize for pinning the tail on the mule while blindfolded. At the close of the delightful evening, the guests wished Mrs. Leech many more happy birthdays.

Delightful Halloween Party Saturday Eve At H. N. Parker Home

On Saturday evening, Miss Connie Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Parker, entertained a group of boys and girls at the attractive country home of her parents, near Amboy, with a Halloween party, and the twelve young people had a glorious time, in games and dancing. The frolic was held in the large basement of the home which had been prettily and appropriately decorated for Halloween with corn stalks and pumpkins. The supper served buffet style, included cider, sandwiches, doughnuts, candy, individual pumpkin and mince pies, pretty favors, etc. The table decorations were in autumn colors, and miniature corn stalks were the candle holders. Everyone had a most delightful evening and voted Connie a royal hostess.

GUESTS WHO ATTENDED SHAW-GREEN WEDDING—

Guests from out of town attending the Shaw-Green wedding at St. Peter's in Grand Detour Saturday morning included Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lohse, Albert Davis, Miss Horstense Uetz, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Niebergall, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slocum, Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dyke, Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shaw, Chicago; Mrs. M. Masten, Dr. M. Masten, Madison, Wis.

EARS ago writes a BEYOND REMEDY?

"Y EARS ago" writes a reader, "I made a bad mistake which I cannot forget, much less undo. It was worse than wicked; it was stupid. Unhappy results followed and they are still going on, alas."

"What the blunder was does not matter; it was foolish enough, but the fact is as it is, though I have regretted it times without end. Why do our sins and follies pursue us so relentlessly?"

There is no mistaking the facts that foolish deeds, like evil deeds, come home to roost. We cannot act stupidly and cruelly, even thoughtlessly, without suffering for it soon or late.

Yet we are not justified in saying of any situation that the case is hopeless, for it is not true. Even nature teaches us a lesson in this way; no sooner is a limb broken than she starts to mend it.

The same facts hold good of character and destiny; nothing is final unless we let it be so. The worst mistake may be redeemed; it may take time and toil, but there are no barred gates on the road.

Life does not end with our yesterday, and it knows no tomorrow. The fact is it may remain, but our attitude toward it may be so changed that an error may be transformed into wings that lift.

Admit that the one all-pervading law of life is the law of cause and effect, does it cease to operate when our mistakes have brought disaster upon us? No, it goes on working, and we can use it for good.

Things do not stay put. Every result is followed by other results; it is ours to see that we make the best of them. The results of folly, and even sin, may be neutralized, as the sea purifies the sewer.

Finality is not in the sewer, but in the sea. My reader fails to distinguish between the man who wants to change the past and the man who does not care.

Also my reader forgets another fact—the greatest fact of both faith and life—the reality of forgiveness; that is, giving back what we have lost, a divine tide of love washing away our petty blunders!

Wittenauer-Near Wedding in Ashton

Miss Rachel Wittenauer, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Leuschner of Amboy, and Kenneth Near, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Near of Lee Center, were married Thursday at Ashton. They were attended by Miss Wilma Whitton and Elmer Wittenauer, cousin of the bride.

Miss Wittenauer wore a frock of aqua blue crepe, with harmonizing accessories, and her bridesmaid also wore blue crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Near will be at home after Nov. 1 on the bridegroom's farm near Amboy. He is a graduate of the Lee Center high school. The bride, with Miss Whitton, has operated Rae's Beauty shop at Ashton for the past six months.

Mrs. Hoover Opens Girl Scouts' Week

Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 28.—(AP) As Girl Scout week got under way throughout the country, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the former president, broke her rule against interviews today and explained some of the ideals of the girls' organization she heads.

"Neighborhoodness is one of the most important of the Girl Scout activities," Mrs. Hoover declared. She added that "neighborliness" is the most important factor connected with Girl Scout week, which opened yesterday.

"It is a time when the girls try definitely to have their neighbors learn more about them; learn that they are ever ready to be useful, friendly, cheerful and also ready for fun when duty does not call," she explained.

FOUNDER OF PI BETA PHI HELD A MEMORIAL—Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Founders of Pi Beta Phi, the first college sorority, were honored in a memorial service yesterday at Monmouth College, where the first chapter was formed.

Among the participants were Miss Margaret Campbell, the oldest living graduate of Monmouth College and one of the founders, Dr. James A. Grier, whose mother was a founder, and Miss Amy Onken, grand president.

MISS MARY HOBBS HERE TO ATTEND WEDDING—Miss Mary Hobbs was here Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Ellagren Shaw and Harold A. Green. Miss Hobbs is a sorority sister of Mrs. Green, both belonging to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

ENTERTAINS EIGHT AT DINNER SUNDAY—Miss Anna Geisenheimer entertained eight guests at dinner Sunday.

Tested RECIPES

By Mrs. Alexander George HALLOWEEN "PARTY-GRAPHS"

The time is approaching when witches and hobgoblins will influence the frolics of the youngsters—and many grown-ups as well. Suggestions for "bewitching foods" are in order.

"When the Pumpkins Grin" Orange juice, chilled or frozen, served with fancy sandwiches is fitting to serve for party, club or sorority refreshments.

"Features" can be traced easily on candies, cakes, cookies or sandwiches by using sweet chocolate, melted and applied on small wooden pick.

Use well formed pumpkin for holding picks, stuck with appetizers for serving with cocktails.

Yellow cream cheese fashioned into tiny "pumpkins" can accompany fruit or vegetable salad.

Popped corn or puffed wheat or rice balls, usually favorites, can be served, wrapped in orange colored crepe paper, covered with black cats cut from paper.

The traditional refreshments, doughnuts, cider and apples can have the serving varied by arranging doughnuts on handle of toy broom and pouring cider from large jug and placing apples in large wooden bowl.

Jack-O-Lantern Pie 1 baked pie shell 1 cup sugar 1 cup flour 1-8 teaspoon salt 5 tablespoons cocoa 2 egg yolks 2 cups milk 1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend sugar with flour and salt. Add cocoa, yolks and milk. Cook until thick in double boiler. Stir frequently. Add vanilla and pour into pie shell. Arrange "features" on top using marshmallows. Make a "fringe" of meringue around sides of pie. Brown 5 minutes in moderate oven.

Meringue 2 egg whites 4 tablespoons sugar Beat whites until stiff. Add sugar and beat until creamy. Arrange a one inch rim or fringe of this mixture outlining the edge of pie.

Entertained With Treasure Hunt on Sunday Evening

Misses Emily Levan, Mary Hoffman, Leone Kreim, and Betty Haines entertained Sunday evening thirty young people with a treasure hunt.

At 7:30 they congregated at Levan's and received their first clue which took them to Grand Detour. The second was to three pine trees and the third at Crawford's horse trough. After that they all spent most of their time at Cleon's trying to find the rest of the clues, taking them to the west end and a box car on the I. C., and to the Three Mile Branch, and last but not least, a stone quarry which no one could find, and when they did, the treasure was gone. After they all gave up refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. However, Chuck Marshall and his gang, including Sherlock Holmes Bovey, were entitled to the treasure because they had the most clues. In spite of rain everyone had a grand time, and after thanking their gracious hostesses departed for their homes at a late hour.

Mrs. Barlow Entertains Household Science Club Thurs.

The Dixon Household Science club met at the home of Mrs. Madge Barlow, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 24. The meeting was called to order by the vice president. Plans were discussed for a Halloween party to be held at the home of Mrs. Eva Murray, Wednesday evening, Oct. 30.

A corn game was won by Mrs. Ida Mundorf.

During the enjoyable social hour tempting refreshments were served.

The sawfly larva sprays its enemies with a shower of acid.

W.C.T.U. Meeting at W. D. Baum Home Of Much Inspiration

The Willard W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Baum and Mrs. Belle Morris, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 23. The president, Miss Callie Morgan, presided. The opening song, was "What a Friend We Have In Jesus" Mrs. J. F. Young led the devotional period. She chose the topic, "Are We Builders or Wreckers?" She read from Corinthians, 1st chapter. Truth is more powerful than falsehood. Love is better than hate. Be not weary in well doing for in due season we will reap if we faint not," closing with prayer.

Business session followed with Secretary, Miss Seals' report. Treasurer, Mrs. Frey, gave her report. Miss Morgan spoke of the "Voice," published by Miss Hubler. The paper was given to Mrs. Frey to be passed to members to be read. Announcement was given, that a meeting of the missionary societies would be held Nov. 1, in the M. E. church in the interest of "Christian Citizenship." A dinner will be served. The speaker will be Senator Gunning. The local union is invited to be present. Two new members were reported. Mrs. A. S. Derr in a fitting manner, gave a tender and loving memorial of Rev. Gilbert Stansell. "Not alone his church but our entire community, was saddened by the accidental and sudden call to a higher service of our beloved Brother Stansell. Not alone our local union but the Temperance cause feels a distinct loss in the departure of our brother beyond our visible horizon. His interest and sympathy were always on the side of the individual and community betterment. As one of the pastors of our city, our local union could rely on his helpfulness. He will be greatly missed, but the inspiration of his devoted life will continue to lead us on in the service of the King. To his wife who is a member of the Francis Willard Union, and to their family, in this time of bereavement, we extend to them our sincere sympathy."

Mrs. Merion Mahen, who had attended the county convention in Rock Falls church brought a report which was replete with many activities and work accomplished. A fitting climax to the day's program was furnished by Captain May Orcheston of the Salvation Army, when she spoke of "Evangeline Booth and Temperance." At the close of her talk she sang, "The World for God" accompanied by her accordion. The Whiteside Co. Unions extended greetings to the Dixon Union.

Mrs. Alma Lewis Amboy, our Lee county president, brings to us a very good report of the state convention, in Carbondale, Oct. 1-4. The first evening an executive meeting was held. I noted a few of the recommendations of the president, Mrs. Ferguson.

The name Alcohol Education Fund to be called Willard Century Educational Fund, adopted the name, "Youth's Temperance Council, instead of Young People's Branch. Instituted a department of Radio propaganda. The program of the afternoon was of an impromptu nature. Talks were given by the following, Rev. Burningham, Mrs. Farnsworth, Helen Byrnes, Miss Munns, Mrs. DeVo, Rev. Williams, Mrs. Haglar. One of the speakers said that beer was sold in the camps. The new national evangelist Mrs. Williams, led the devotions Wednesday morning. The superintendent of public schools, Normal, gave a talk. In it he said, "You're probably doing more than you think you are, as in the case of the 18th amendment. They had worked up to it through the years. As regards to making the world dry, 'It can be done.' The memorial service was given by Mrs. Ferguson, and she voiced the prayer that young women take the places of the ones who had passed on."

Miss Marshall reported 115 new unions and hoped to have a doubled membership next year. The evening address by Mrs. Ferguson was titled, "Lift up Thine Eyes." We must keep our eyes fixed on the hills and our young people's eyes lifted up and their brains clear. Mrs. Haglar was elected state evangelist. She gave the devotions Thursday morning. Her subject, "No One Can Stir Your Soul Only So Far as It Has Been Stirred by Yourself." The aim, "Sir, we would see Jesus."

The state contest director said there should be a contest in each town. Resolutions committee proposed for this year, "Abolition of Liquor traffic, build spiritually, endorse total abstinence instead of moderation. Talk, live and bring to pass, 'Peace' instead of 'war.'"

The consecration service was led by Ida B. Wise Smith. She spoke of friendship instead of warships. That liquor traffic cannot be controlled, but by prohibition. She regretted the loosening of the lottery demon in U. S. We must have the Supreme Court as our balance wheel. We are being ruled by mob system. Every protection is broken down. The brewer has a worse hold because he has the administration with him. The brewer sets in legislative halls and dictates, and always remember, the saloon has a new market, the women. My final plea is "Go after the youth and bring them into the work of temperance and total abstinence which is their only safeguard."

At the close of the pleasant and profitable meeting, the president Miss Morgan, called for a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Alma Lewis, for her splendid report. Meeting closed with all uniting in the song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Rep. Van der Vries Gives Address of Interest to Club

Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, one of the women members of the Illinois State Legislature, was the speaker at the Dixon Woman's club, Saturday, Oct. 26 at the Christian church. Her subject was "Adventures in Citizenship."

There are only two women who are members of the legislature, Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill and Mrs. Van der Vries. Very few women are free of home responsibilities enough to seek nomination for such an office.

Mrs. Van der Vries told of her personal experiences in campaigning and also as a member of the House of Representatives. She told in detail the workings of the legislature, how a bill was introduced, committee hearings, voting, etc. She hopes that better method of committee hearings can be arranged which, she thinks, will improve the legislation.

Closing Mrs. Van der Vries urged women to take more interest in party politics and seek offices. Women are vitally interested in education and anything pertaining to the health and safety so should take a vital interest in politics.

Preceding the talk by Mrs. Van der Vries, Mrs. A. C. Bowers announced the next meeting Nov. 9 which is to be an all day institute under the direction of the American Tote and Garden Department.

She also asked all members who could to attend the regional meeting of Women's clubs to be held in Sycamore Oct. 29. Also the meeting of the Amboy Woman's club on Nov. 9.

Mrs. Albertine McKenney gave several short readings which were greatly enjoyed by the club.

The program for the afternoon was under the direction of the American Citizenship Department, Miss Vera Mae Poole is chairman.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Auman, Walder, H. M. Edwards, Robinson, Manthey, McDonald, Goff, Strock, Misses Flora Ceals and Holland.

Meeting of Willing Workers S. S. Class

The Willing Workers class of the Grace Evangelical church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Glessner, celebrating the first anniversary of the class.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Wilbur Schriener; vice president, Mrs. Ray Herbert; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harold Shearer.

After the business meeting games were enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

RETURNS TO CHICAGO FOLLOWING WEDDING—Miss Myra Alice Warner has returned to her school duties at the University of Chicago after attending the Shaw-Green wedding here.

At Christening

Bishop Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist church (above) christened Sunday, Oct. 27, Sylvia West Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeGrand Cannon, 218 S. Ottawa avenue.

Thirty of the baby's relatives and intimate friends of the family were present at the ceremony and luncheon immediately following.

It was also a birthday luncheon for the baby's grandfather, Roy O. West of Chicago, former Secretary of the Interior in the late President Calvin Coolidge's cabinet.

Mrs. Frank W. Howes of Chicago stood as godmother and Charles D. McWilliams, Jr., of Dwight, Ill., as godfather. Water from the River Jordan was used in the baptism. Mr. and Mrs. George B. Fleuhr were the only Dixon guests.

Twentieth Century Club Met Thursday

The Twentieth Century Literary Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. V. L. Carpenter.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. B. Ryan. The usual business was transacted. After roll call the following program was enjoyed:

New York Times by Mrs. C. H. Sargent.
Artists of the 19th Century by Mrs. Wilbur Winn.

During the social hour the hostesses served very tempting refreshments.

The next meeting will be Thursday evening, Nov. 14, with Mrs. Dale Cooper.

Thursday Reading Circle Meeting

The Thursday Reading Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clea Bunnell.

The program was in charge of Mrs. C. V. Chapman. The first number was a vocal duet and encore by Mrs. Nate Morrill and Mrs. Alfred Tice. The discussion was Ethiopia. Miss Anna Meade reading the paper. She was assisted by other members.

The hostess, assisted by her granddaughter, Connie Bunnell, served delicious refreshments. Halloween decorations were used and each member received a favor.

Halloween Party for Zion Household Science Club Thurs.

The Zion Household Science club will meet with Mrs. James Miller of Nelson Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Carl Jansen and Miss Edna Jansen will be assistant hostesses.

The meeting assumed the form of a Halloween party and prizes will be given for the funniest and the prettiest costumes. Roll call is to be responded to with a favorite verse.

Annual Dance on Christmas Night

The annual holiday party and dance of St. Luke's church will be held at the Masonic Temple on Christmas night, it was announced today.

New Books Placed on Shelves Dixon Library Recently

Dwight Morrow—Nicolson. Expertly written biography of the eminent citizen whose death cut short a career surely on the rise.

Spring Came On Forever—Aldrich. The author of "A Lantern in Her Hand" tells the story of Amalia Stoltz who is falling in love with Matthias Meier, back in 1867 in Illinois, although betrothed to an older man, a friend of her father. The Stoltz family have taken the trek into Nebraska, and because of the difficulties of travel Matthias has been unable to circumvent the marriage.

Tobacco Road—Kirkland. This much discussed play, which has been acted before capacity audiences in New York and is now running in Chicago, cannot be regarded as other than a moving portrayal of degenerated life among the poor whites of the South. The play is based on the novel by Erskine Caldwell.

Story of America in Pictures—Collins. The glamorous history of the United States told in action pictures. The reader will see the outstanding events of its discovery, pioneering, wars for freedom and union, industrial development and progress to world leadership.

It Can't Happen Here—Sinclair Lewis. Lewis' story is that of Doremus Jessup, owner and editor of a liberal small-city newspaper in New England, who observes with alarm the obviously directed growth of fascism in the United States and watches Senator Windrip, aided by Bishop Prang's talks on the radio seize control of the government. The characters are patterned after American politicians, and the book will probably be a sensation.

Salamina—Rockwell Kent. Of all the women of Greenland the most capable, most faithful, most elegant, refined, most beautiful and altogether captivating was she named Salamina. Igloodsitt is the name of a remote trading post in Greenland. Mr. Kent, who likes the strong and primitive, spent several winters there painting, working and going native. There are 22 full-page illustrations by the author.

Longest Years—Undset. Ingvald, the heroine of this slow, luminous story of a Scandinavian childhood, is clearly a portrait of Undset herself as a little girl, and the values of the book, in consequence, are mainly autobiographical. Ingvald's tender relationship with her father, a famous archaeologist, is the central theme.

Golden Apples—Rawlings. The author of "South Moon Under" has written another novel of the wild Florida forest land whose brilliant semi-tropical color she creates so realistically. It is the dramatic struggle of a young Floridian and his sister for a living, and of the spiritual regeneration of an Englishman shipped off by his family to a land which, hating at first, he learns to love.

Modern Photography—Holme. The year's achievement is represented by nearly 100 examples chosen from the work of outstanding photographers all over the world.

Killer's Code—Sanders. Western story.

Garden Murder Case—Van Dine. Philo Vance again on the job with a neat puzzle involving a group of wealthy race horse players in pent house devilry.

Mrs. Astor's Horse—Stanley Walker. The author of "City Editor" writes a series of articles on the personalities whose activities have been responsible for the more flamboyant aspects of the American scene. The result is many laughs and some disgust. Some of the protagonists are Mae West, Hauptmann, Almee Sample, McPherson, Dion O'Bannon.

Honor Bound—Baldwin. A romance for those who like their stories light and airy.

Some American People—Caldwell. Mr. Caldwell travelled

through America in 1934-35, talking to people in the Northwest, the Midwest drought area, the Southern tenant-farmer belt, and the inner-known as Detroit. This is a record of conversations with citizens who have nearly reached the end of their rope. Sharp, incisive writing, making for not especially pretty reading.

Diaghileff—Haskell. A complete, thoroughly informed biography of the super-impressionist, who vigorously defends Diaghileff against the melodramatic charges of Madame Nijinsky. Most readers of "Nijinsky" will want to read this.

Seven Pillars of Wisdom—Lawrence. The original 300,000 word story of Lawrence's Arabian adventure, first privately printed in 1922, and the version from which "Revolt in the Desert" was abstracted. Part military chronicles, and part great writing.

Girl Scout Handbook—For leaders and Scouts.

For Children. Moviemakers—Floherly. Bob Gordon, Cub Reporter—Dean.

Automobiles from Start to Finish—Reck. Anne at Work—Fayerweather.

Happy Birthday Surprise for Mrs. Wm. L. Leech Saturday Eve

Mrs. William L. Leech was the victim of a complete and well planned surprise Saturday evening, the event honoring her birthday. Mrs. Leech had spent the afternoon in Rockford with her daughter, Mrs. George McEwen of DeKalb and upon returning to Dixon, Mrs. McEwen drove to one of the cottages at the Flamm camp grounds. Here assembled, were a number of friends with Judge Leech as master of ceremonies. A sumptuous dinner was enjoyed and a most pleasant evening was spent. Judge Leech had very quietly planned the entire affair. Mrs. Leech received several nice gifts during the evening. The cottage was cleverly decorated with Halloween motifs and many contests provided entertainment during the evening. Mrs. Lucille Poole was the winner of the fried chicken eating contest. Miss Carol Kersten of near Ashton was the prize for pinning the tail on the mule while blindfolded. At the close of the delightful evening, the guests wished Mrs. Leech many more happy birthdays.

Delightful Halloween Party Saturday Eve At H. N. Parker Home

On Saturday evening, Miss Connie Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Parker, entertained a group of boys and girls at the attractive country home of her parents, near Amboy, with a Halloween party, and the twelve young people had a glorious time, in games and dancing. The frolic was held in the large basement of the home which had been prettily and appropriately decorated for Halloween with corn stalks and pumpkins. The supper served buffet style, included cider, sandwiches, doughnuts, candy, individual pumpkin and mince pies, pretty favors, etc. The table decorations were in autumn colors, and miniature corn stalks were the candle holders. Everyone had a most delightful evening and voted Connie a royal hostess.

EXTENT OF OUR RECOVERY

What is the extent of our recovery, and upon what is it based? These are questions that occupy the time of economists.

Col. Leonard Ayres, chairman of the economic policy commission of the American Bankers' association, recently issued his monthly bulletin, in which he said:

"Real recovery depends upon a renewed flow of capital in the form of corporation bond issues to finance expanding enterprise. That would solve the recovery program, and the employment problem, and, incidentally, the railroad problem."

We gather from the foregoing that this economist does not regard such progress as we have made as real recovery. He gives a summary of the present situation as follows:

There can be no real doubt that business sentiment and general confidence are better now than they have been during the autumn of any previous year of the depression. Nevertheless, these improved attitudes are still rather of the short term variety than for the long pull.

"They have resulted in freer vacation spending, better support of sports and entertainment, more travel, and a greater volume of consumer purchase at retail. Capital and labor still seek security rather than opportunities to take new risks in the hope of profiting thereby."

Colonel Ayres' statement is another way of saying a thing that has been true throughout the depression, that so-called consumers' goods have held up in sales to a far greater degree than the heavy or durable products. Gains in automobile manufacture and sales have been about the only gains registered in the heavy industries, except in farm implement works.

Because 10 million persons still are unemployed, it is hardly possible that the change in spending can be attributed to reemployment. The farther we go, the more it seems to us that our early contention was correct; that the better feeling and the stimulation of business that has taken place in the consumers' goods and entertainment are attributable to stabilization of the banking situation and the liquidating of thousands of complicated business ventures.

The banking situation was a sort of creeping paralysis, which originated in the states of the plains, crept through the usually prosperous corn belt and finally afflicted the cities. It went from one city to another. Between the time it appeared that Roosevelt would be elected and the time he took office, nobody knew what his fiscal policy would be and there came rumors of the devaluation that followed. In the midst of the uncertainty the assaults were made on city banks, which resulted in the crash at the eve of his inauguration.

Once the structure had hit bottom, it was possible to build from the bottom. As that was done each of us learned his status. Gradually liquidation of frozen banks has been in progress and depositors have received their money. Money that was in hiding in places other than banks has come out and has been placed in circulation.

That has been sufficient to make the better feeling, though economists refuse to accept it as evidence of return of real prosperity.

Taking note of General Dawes' measurements of the depressions of 1873 and of 1893 and his prediction based on the calendar, Colonel Ayres observes that this month the depression attains the somber distinction of being the longest depression in our business history.

Our notion of the reason it has lingered with us so long is that we have sought to harness the natural economic laws and to direct them into channels in which they have not wanted to go. We have depended on the president and a congress rather than upon natural processes and our artificial means have served only to obstruct natural means.

DEFLATING THE EGO

Traffic police of one of the Balkan countries, when they observe a motorist violating the law, have an extremely simple method of giving him time to think matters over. They simply order him to the curb, and let all the air out of his tires.

Of necessity the motorist must reflate his tires with the hand pump, a most painful process. It may be surmised that when the erstwhile reckless driver gets the wind back into his tires, it is practically all out of his sails.

Many a reckless motorist will go into police court and plead guilty with the utmost nonchalance. In many cases he can even send his attorney to court so as to plead by proxy. An assessment of a few dollars may, in many cases, mean practically nothing to a reckless driver. But when he has to roll up his sleeves and pump vigorously for an hour or so he has time to contemplate the error of his ways. His feet are on the ground, both literally and figuratively. The exercise is wholesome, conducive to good appetite at the next meal and to sound, restful sleep that night. He gets a new perspective mentally and a new start in life physically.

Physicians prescribe such exercises. Physical culture directors insist upon it. Both charge fees for such services, but in the Balkan country referred to, the police serve without charge in conferring this inestimable boon upon the too-speedy driver. They return good for evil.

We are not informed as to the status of a policeman in the United States who might probe into a tire valve without a search warrant; or whether a policeman here could serve as peace officer, judge, jury and executioner, as the gendarmes seem to do in southern Europe.

But the idea itself is a whizz.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Well, everything turned out all right," said little Doty Tinymite. "Gee, when the lightning hit our gas bag, I thought we were done, our way. Why, it's a woman on a 'Your parachute has saved the day. Again we're on our merry way. We'll all forget about our scare and plan, now, on some fun." "A good idea," Duncy said, "but look behind and look ahead. All we can see is clouds. There's nothing else that's near at hand." "I'll be monotonous I fear, if we just float around up here. Why wouldn't it be better to find some nice place to land?" "I live at Pumpkin Land, below, and that's just where I'm going to go. Come on, let's drop together, and some nice sights you will see." The balloon man smiled and said, "Okay. Well follow, if you lead the way. Remember, though, our basket may be rather hard to land." "I'll get there first," the witch replied. "And then I'll rush up to your side, when you get right down close to earth, where I can lend a hand." (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc. The Tinies reach Pumpkin Land in the next story.)

Members of Stone Bondholders Board Called "Unworthy"

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—Archie H. Cohen, referee in bankruptcy, in a report on file in United States District court, has recommended that Avery Brundage, chairman of the H. O. Stone Co. bondholders committee and four other members be removed "because they have shown themselves unworthy of their trust."

He charged they had "secretly divided $23,104 in appraisal fees in the reorganization of the property."

Named with Brundage was H. B. Hackett, architect. Three other members of the committee, Charles M. Noderwell, Francis R. Blossom and J. L. Kraft, were not named by Referee Cohen in the fee splitting charge, but were mentioned as having made "false allegations" to bondholders.

Brundage denied that he or Col. Hackett, head of the housing division of the federal public works administration in Washington, had received any of the fees. He said the money was paid for appraisals of the properties of the Stone Co.

RELIEF LOAD IN STATE FOR NOV. TOTALS 300,000

Lee County Allotment for Month Announced as Being $14,207

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—A relief load approximating 300,000 cases for Illinois during November was in prospect today, based on estimates given the state relief commission.

The total, 292,897, was an increase of 18 per cent from the October load, and the expenditures necessary to carry the burden were placed at $10,282,570.

The estimates, prepared by Louis J. Owen, contemplated half a month's relief for 9,000 cases shifted to the works progress administration in time to receive checks during November.

Robert J. Dunham, member of the commission and Illinois WPA administrator, told the others he planned to have the entire employable load cared for by WPA on or before Jan. 1.

"At present," Dunham said, "we have 11,000 workers. Another 9,000 will be added by Nov. 1. By Nov. 15 the total should be 45,000 and by Dec. 15, 150,000."

Do not U. S. Help. In moving approval of the November allocations, Dunham expressed doubt that the federal government would furnish the $8,459,984 requested. The October request was slashed by about $700,000, while in September the commission received almost $1,000,000 less than it asked. The remainder of November's funds will come from the state and sales tax receipts and local sources.

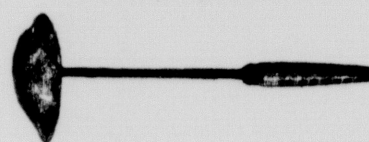

Dunham yesterday announced that work for 40,000 under WPA had been provided by Comptroller General McCarl's approval of 925 Illinois projects calling for expenditures of more than $40,000,000. Of this sum, he said, $9,993,189 would be available immediately. He did not say what projects would be started.

November allocations to counties, as approved last week by the commission, included: Lee, $14,207; Jo Daviess, $8,844; Stephenson, $2,697; Whiteside, $15,136.

Almost a million and a half of the 13½ million foreign-born persons in this country are illiterate.

Purple Team Smothers Rochelle 26-0, Nears N. C. I. League Throne

"B" Eleven Pounds Out 18-0 Win in Opener

Unable to withstand Dixon high school's powerful running attack Rochelle was trampled under a 26 to 0 score on the Dixon high field Saturday afternoon as the Purple and White eleven edged a step nearer the N. C. I. conference championship. The lightweight team mates by brushing aside Rochelle 18 to 0 in the preliminary contest.

The invaders vainly tried the aerial route, the same department through which they sprang to an upset victory in 1934 over Dixon, but their every attempt was frustrated completely. The Hub City team negotiated only two successful passes out of ten tries, and Dixon completed two out of five attempts. On the ground the local machine smashed all resistance right at the beginning. During the game the Lindellmen ran up fifteen first downs against five for Rochelle, smashing over all three of their touchdowns in the first half of the game.

Rochelle Starts Fast
The big Orange team started out with the apparent strategy of rushing Dixon off its feet by a dazzling offensive of elaborate lateral passes and end runs. After Lloyd Miller had fumbled on the return of Rochelle's kickoff. The result was complete failure for Rochelle. After the Orangemen had worked the ball up to Dixon's 30 yard line, Don Miller intercepted a short pass over center and raced 25 yards before being halted. Rebeck then thundered around left end for another 20 yards. Dixon's fierce counter-offensive swept Rochelle forty yards back into its own territory from which a march goalward was begun that did not terminate until Akeny had crossed the stripe. Lloyd Miller converted the point giving Dixon a 7 to 0 lead at the close of five minutes play.

In the second period Dixon buried their hapless foes under three more touchdowns. Rebeck slanted off tackle on a fake for 20 yards and another touchdown shortly after the beginning of the frame. Don Miller kicked the extra point. Another fake through tackle netted Rebeck a first down a moment later following the kickoff, but a penalty nullified the gain. A pass Akeny to Swanlund gave Dixon ten yards however, and Rebeck circled end for the third touchdown. The point after was no good. Behind great blocking by Klein and Miller, Cliff Swanlund ran back Rochelle's punts consistently for long gains. It was not long before he plunged over for the Purple and White team's fourth and final touchdown from the two yard line.

Foe Stiffens Resistance
The enemy tightened up in the second half and held the locals scoreless. Rochelle made its second first down on the stellar work of plunging Stanley, Hub City fullback. In addition the invaders foiled all of Dixon's trickiest plays before they could get started. Twice the Lindellmen were halted on the 40 yard line for downs. After Harms had gained 20 yards on a lateral pass, Rochelle worked the ball up to the Dixon 40 yard line before Evans intercepted a pass. After marching down the field to Rochelle's 16 yard line however, the locals were again stopped.

In the fourth quarter Rochelle continued to stand Dixon off but proved totally unable to offer any threats of its own. Lezniski on the very first play of the game broke his arm and had to be assisted to the sidelines. This proved a blow that aided in crippling Rochelle's first half morale.

chelle's two proved the superiority of the lightweight running attack over their rivals from Ogle county as the Sharpe crew took an 18 to 0 victory in the preliminary game of the twin N. C. I. C. bill here Saturday.

In the air Dixon completed two out of six tries and Rochelle was totally ineffective missing all five of their attempts via the atmosphere.

At the opening of the game and exchange of punts netted Rochelle a small gain as they kept the ball in Dixon territory. When Dixon got the ball however Burke broke around end for 50 yards and a touchdown only to have the play called back and a penalty for off-side inflicted on Dixon.

McMillion circled right end for a first down on the five yard line with goal to go in the second period and a pass Ellis to Stitzel gave Dixon a touchdown. Receiving the kickoff Rochelle made a first down on plunges and worked the ball 20 yards before Ellis intercepted a pass. Burke then heaved another aerial to Ellis who galloped 20 yards to the 3 yard stripe. Ellis then swept around end to the half yard marker and Bassetti plunged over for the lightweights' second touchdown.

Coakley made the last touchdown in the fourth quarter. Ellis ran back a punt 16 yards to the five yard line. A penalty of five yards for offside failed to halt Dixon's rush. None of the conversion points were made.

KNOX REMAINS TOP LITTLE 19 LEAGUE HEAP

Augustana Having Worst Season Since 1931

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Augustana although eliminated from title consideration by a loss to Knox, may yet be an important factor in determination of the Illinois intercollegiate football championship.

North Central, with an opportunity to go into undisputed first place in the standings suffered a 12 to 0 loss to Augustana last week and is now tied with the Rock Island school, each with two victories and one loss.

Monmouth, another of the eleven aspirants to a share of the top position and now undefeated in league competition, may be another to fall victim to the Viking power when the two teams clash Nov. 16 at Monmouth.

Already charged with two defeats to Knox and St. Ambrose—Augustana is experiencing its worst season since 1931.

Millikin, after an open date last week, will swing back into action Saturday, engaging Lake Forest in the Foresters' only championship game of the season. Knox, tied with Millikin and McKendree for leadership in the standings, will meet Cornell, a non-conference foe.

The standings:

Western Reserver is Leading the Scorers

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Ray

eh, Western Reserve fullback, continued to lead the nation's football scorers this week, having chalked up the impressive total of 70 points through virtue of nine touchdowns.

Frank Patrick, fullback of Pitt, in five games collected 7 touchdowns, 5 points after touchdowns and 3 field goals for a total of 56 points. Patrick scored a touchdown and a field goal to account for all of his team's points against Penn State Saturday, Pitt winning 9-0.

Southeastern conference: Louisiana State nosed out Vanderbilt last Saturday and must face another dangerous rival, Auburn, this week. Mississippi, only other team

OHIO STATE TO MEET IRISH OF NOTRE DAME

U. C. L. A. Tangles With Golden Bears Team

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Focus your attention this week on Columbus, O., and Los Angeles or you may miss the crowning of a national football champion.

At Columbus it will be Ohio State's Buckeyes against the Ramblers of Notre Dame. At Los Angeles, the University of California will collide with its one-time football "step-child"—the University of California at Los Angeles, now a gridiron power in its own right.

Close to 200,000 fans will watch these two duels between undefeated and untied teams, all top-ranking contenders for the mythical national title.

Notre Dame has five successive victories, the last a 14-0 triumph against Navy last week. Ohio State, touted all season as perhaps the greatest team in the land, won its fourth in a row against Indiana, 28-6.

The Far West's classic matches two formidable arrays whose combined record shows ten victories with St. Mary's, Santa Clara and Stanford among the victims.

Trouncing Southern California 21-7 last week, California's Golden Bears stretched their winning streak to six while U. C. L. A. was making No. 4 a 33-6 wallop to Oregon. Meanwhile here's the championship situation in the major divisions:

East.

Still a dog-fight with Army, Princeton, Dartmouth, Temple, New York University, Syracuse and Catholic the only major undefeated and untied teams. Holy Cross on its brilliant 3-0 conquest of Colgate must be counted in on the sectional race. So must Fordham. Pitt and Villanova, beaten only by intersectional foes.

Pitt and Fordham will strive to eliminate one another at the Polo Grounds here Saturday, while Dartmouth, 14-6 victor over Harvard, seeks to end the Yale Bowl jinx that has kept the Indians from ever winning from the Eli's.

Princeton, which routed Cornell, 34-0, meets its first stern test against Navy, and Temple may have its hands full with Michigan State whose Spartans returned to form, routing Washington University, 47-13. Army's Cadets, victoriously over Yale 14-8, on Monk Meyer's great all-around play, collides with Ralph Sasse's Mississippi State outfit, triumphant over Alabama.

Middle West.

Big Six: By virtue of its surprise 9-2 victory over Kansas State, the University of Kansas tops the standings. Nebraska's 19-0 triumph over Oklahoma left the Cornhuskers just behind with two victories and a tie in three conference games. Oklahoma and Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, are the conference pairings this week. Iowa State, tied by Missouri 6-6, plays Marquette; Kansas State tackles Tulsa.

Southwest.

Texas Christian and Baylor, the current conference leaders with two victories each, clash at Waco. Southern Methodist, only other unbeaten outfit, takes on Texas, whose Longhorns were beaten by Rice 28-19, last week. Arkansas and Texas A. & M. will play at Fayetteville.

South.

Southeastern conference: Louisiana State nosed out Vanderbilt last Saturday and must face another dangerous rival, Auburn, this week. Mississippi, only other team unbeaten in the conference, plays an intersectional game with St. Louis Friday night. Fresh from its 17-7 triumph over Georgia, Alabama will play Kentucky's Wildcats. Florida and Georgia, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech, meet in other conference games. Tulane faces Colgate at New Orleans.

Southern conference: North Carolina, only major team south of the Mason and Dixon line which has escaped defeat, will try for its second conference victory at the expense of North Carolina State. These two are tied for second place in the standings now, each with one victory and no defeats.

Far West.

Pacific coast conference: The U. C. L. A.-California game overshadows the rest of the program, marked by only one other conference game—Washington vs. Montana. Stanford, which halted Washington 6-0 on two field goals by Monk Moscrip, plays Santa Clara this week.

Rocky Mountain conference: Utah's 39-13 runaway with Denver sent the Utes into a tie for first place with Colorado University, victor over Colorado State 19-6. Utah plays Brigham Young while Colorado is facing Colorado College this week.

Chicago U's One Man Backfield Gets Aid

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A Persian youth, Omar Fareed, has come along finally to give Jay Berwanger, the University of Chicago's one-man backfield, some help.

Fareed who hails from Glendale, Calif., where his father is a neurophysiologist, blossomed Saturday as a forward passer, firing two shots, the first to Gordon Petersen for 38 yards, and the next one to Berwanger for a touchdown.

REDMEN BEAT JANESVILLE 27-0 SUNDAY

Only Nine Men In the Invader Lineup in Last Frame

Janesville, Wisconsin's independent grid team came to Dixon with only 11 men and no reserves for a Sunday game with the Dixon Redmen, and seemed to do better with only nine on the field after two of their players were removed from the contest with injuries in the fourth quarter. The locals easily won 27 to 0.

The game had scarcely opened before the crowd on the sidelines became aware that all was not well with Janesville. Although the Wisconsinites were a beefy lot they certainly displayed little of the skill that makes a football team. Dixon made seven first downs to Janesville's two and completed four out of eight passes as compared with only two successful Janesville passes out of ten tries.

Tried to Pass

The invaders tried to pass as the game opened with the ball deep in their own territory. They lost the ball when a poor punt was caught on their own 20 yard line. Dixon made a pair of thrusts at the line then a pass from Wolford to Stauffer was good for a touchdown. Shires Miller converting the point, Janesville took the next kickoff but proved totally unable to work the ball past midfield on passes or line plunges. They kicked and McIntyre on the first play for the Redmen crashed through the line for ten yards and a first down. Wolford circled end for 12 more yards. A fake to Belows on a criss cross play sent him on a 25 yard jaunt for another touchdown and Shires again converted with a kick, the ball bouncing over the top of the crossbar, the score being 14-0.

Whitebread replaced Shires as the second frame opened and the Reds continued to hold their Blue and Yellow foes in their own territory. Presently Wolford slanted off tackle 45 yards to Janesville's ten yard stripe. A series of plunges sent Wolford over for the third Redmen touchdown from the one yard line, the conversion on a pass being called good. After receiving the next kickoff and starting the ball in play McIntyre took the ball on the locals' 30 yard line and ran behind good interference to Janesville's 30 yard marker. A pass to Belows good for 28 yards allowed him to step over the goal for the fourth and last Dixon touchdown. At this point Potts and Winebrenner entered the fray. Janesville got frisky before half ended as Rieuly took a pass from reek and raced 20 yards before being downed.

Scoreless Second Half

Dixon kicked off to Janesville in the third quarter, which proved to be a scoreless affair as did the last quarter. The Redmen threatened their enemy's goal stripe twice but penalties wiped out all their advantages. The locals were halted on the ten yard line the first time and a moment later they blocked a Janesville punt on the ten yard line. But an attempted pass over the goal was intercepted by Janesville just short of the goal and from there the invaders kicked out of danger. The defense was costly however as a Janesville player was removed from the game with an injury to his leg.

Continuing with only 10 men in the game in the fourth quarter, Janesville lost another backfield ace on injuries and was forced to hold off the Redmen with nine men against the locals' eleven. Stauffer broke through tackle for a 40 yard run to Janesville's 18 yard line, but the invaders' held successfully until the end of the game without yielding another touchdown.

ROMP'S WITH DOG AS DAD WAGES AFRICAN WAR—The doings of her dog are far more important than the movement of armies or outcome of battles, to little Anna Maria Mussolini, youngest child of Il Duce, seen at play in Rome.

STAY DOWN PROTESTING NON-UNION HELP—Crowd of relatives and friends of self-entombed miners gather at Nine Mile Point Colliery, South Wales, waiting for news of the men who are remaining below in protest against employment of non-union labor. From 20,000 to 50,000 miners are participating on the strike on the surface and underground.

Mexico Important to U. S.

Written by Arnold Joerns

FOR ILLINOIS JOURNAL OF COMMERCE

The ever-increasing importance of Mexico to the United States is reflected in our newspapers and magazines, and in the many best sellers about Mexico displayed in our book stores. In this article I shall try to boil down essential information about Mexico as gleaned from five years of intimate business and social contact with Mexico and Mexicans, punctuated by several trips a year to and through Mexico during that period. I will try to cover in the fewest possible words the following subjects:

1. Geographical importance of Mexico to Illinois.
2. Truth about the Mexican Revolution.
3. Mexican Politics and the Six Year Plan.
4. Trade and Employment opportunities and Labor Laws.
5. Treatment of Foreign Capital and Legal Problems.
6. Hard Roads, Schools and Railroads.
7. Mexico's great Natural Resources.
8. What the Tourist will find.

Importance to Illinois

Here are facts surprisingly few Americans appreciate. Mexico, our next door neighbor, is in NORTH AMERICA. It is as large as all of the United States lying east of the Mississippi if you omit Wisconsin. 1,833 miles of border separate Mexico and the United States. The most westerly part of Mexico is directly south of San Diego, California and the most easterly part is directly south of Pensacola, Florida. Mexico is large. Mexico City, located in the southern part of Mexico is about 400 miles closer to Chicago than is San Francisco or Los Angeles. The border of Mexico is closer to Chicago than Salt Lake City, Butte, Montana, or Yellowstone Park. It takes freight boats only 3 days to cross the Gulf from southern Mexico to New Orleans. We now have the Mississippi Deep Waterway through Illinois to the Great Lakes. Railroads have and will meet barge competition. Pull up your chair. We are CLOSE to Mexico and all she offers as a source of raw materials not obtainable at so low a cost elsewhere, and as a pulsating, growing market for our goods.

Mexican Revolutions

Some people think Mexico is a land of revolutions. Wrong! Mexico's history and ours is not dissimilar. We had a Revolutionary War and won our independence from England. Mexico followed the same path and in 1810-1821 won her independence from Spain. We had a war in 1812. Then we had a war with Mexico in 1846 and the less we say about that the better. But we had another revolution and we called it the "Civil War" or the "War Between the States" depending on which side of the Mason and Dixon line we belonged. About that time Mexico had a little fuss, eliminated Emperor Maximilian and set up a republic. Meantime we kept on having a lot of revolutions which we called "Indian Wars" until we had the red skin plowed under or salted down. A difference, here, for in Mexico the Indian absorbed the Spaniard to a large degree; and Mexico is today pretty much a highly developed Indian civilization, and proud of it. Then we had another war, the World War, 1917-1918, by which we made the world safe for Democracy, and of course that was a huge success. But during that time Mexico was having a civil war, 1910-1921, to separate the church from the state, and to give 12,000,000 pesos out of 15,000,000 population the right to learn to read and write and to own property. I forgot to mention our Spanish-American War in 1898, the Philippine insurrections, and our participation in the Boxer War in China.

But balance it all up fairly and squarely and you'll admit, compared to the good old U. S. A. Mexico is after all a pretty peaceful, peace-loving place, never yet a military aggressor and only fighting when somebody or something was stepping on her neck. Anyway, since 1921, 14 years now Mexico has been at peace with herself and the world. You have not even heard her growl. Compare this to Japan, China, Italy, Ethiopia, Russia, Germany and many other lands. And today Mexico is paying her $7,000,000 debt to the United States at the rate of $500,000 a year. France, Great Britain, Germany and others, please note!

Mexican Politics

Politically the Republic of Mexico has a government similar to the United States. It consists of 28 states, one territory and the Federal District in which Mexico City is located. Its congress is similar to ours. The President is elected for a six year term and can not succeed himself. There is no vice president, vacancies through death or resignation of president being filled by congress. The president is Lazaro Cardenas, 38 years old. Each of the states has a governor and a political set similar to ours. Their constitution, patterned after ours, provides for the three arms of government—executive, legislative and judicial. I have heard the word "socialism" used freely in Mexico and misinterpreted here. Their government is highly "socialistic" compared to the kind of government they formerly had, just about as socialistic as the United States government was during the Coolidge administration. Now every Mexican citizen has the right to own property; education is compulsory; the minimum wage law is in effect to the tune of $1.50 (pesos) per day in some industries, which is 42 cents in our money. My observation is that the Mexican officials are for the most part intensely patriotic and honest. Taxes are low. THE FEDERAL BUDGET IS BALANCED, there is no unemployment to speak of, the country is at peace and at work and everybody seems busy and happy. There is more building construction going on in Mexico City right now than I have ever seen anywhere, hotels, apartments, public buildings, office buildings and residences. The same is relatively true in all of Mexico's principal cities.

Mexico's Six Year Plan, now two years under way, is meeting with marked success. Its most important features are:

To eliminate trends toward dictatorship by teaching the people to accept election results under a two-party system;

To increase education in the primary and secondary schools with special emphasis on manual training, domestic science, hygiene, agriculture, and commercial, industrial and technical subjects;

To increase the wages and purchasing power of the people;

To establish pure food laws and to improve sanitation, health and hospital facilities throughout the Republic; and homes for the aged;

To fight vice and discourage the use of strong drink;

To foster American sports, such as baseball, football, golf, tennis, polo, etc.;

To increase and perfect the army and air force and encourage commercial and private aviation. Wars are to be waged only in self defense;

To reclaim arid areas by large federal irrigation projects for which an appropriation of $50,000,000 is provided;

To build hard roads throughout the country;

To foster the development and conservation of natural resources;

To modernize existing railroads and to provide $60,000,000 for the building of new ones in sections where no railroads now exist;

To improve and deepen harbors and ship channels to assist world commerce, and to provide a merchant marine;

To seek trade treaties with other countries to benefit Mexican exports;

To provide $50,000,000 for the expansion of agricultural credit to help the farmers;

To respect and encourage private initiative, and to prevent harmful monopolies;

To establish a managed system of currency based on a theoretical gold standard, with silver pesos and bills issued by the Bank of Mexico, redeemable in silver coin, as circulating mediums; and to keep the Mexican peso pegged to the United States dollar.

Trade and Employment

Until recent years Mexico was largely engaged in agriculture and mining, having but few factories. Until the World War cut off ocean shipping, Mexico bought much of her manufactured goods from Europe. The World War practically turned this market over to the United States. The opportunity for developing Mexico as a market for our goods is tremendous, but to some extent we are fulfilling it. A few years ago, during the Hoover administration, we placed a high protective tariff on beef. Until then Mexico sent feeder cattle into the States, fattened them on our corn and they were slaughtered in our packing houses. Mexico bought her dressed meats, leather, shoes and other resultant products from us. But we put on the tariff and that shut the door in the face of Mexico's cattle. This compelled Mexico to build her own slaughtering houses, to dress her own meats, to tan her own hides, and now having leather, to make her own shoes. And last year Mexico exported 1,500,000 pairs of shoes to the United States. And, in spite of the high tariff we bought 100,000 head of cattle from Mexico this March and April because our new conditions and the drought did something to our own supply. Great Britain, Japan and Germany are giving us a good run for our money right now in Mexico. plumbing supplies; The DeVilbiss Company of Toledo, atomizers; General Motors; White Motor Trucks; Reo Automobiles; Mack Trucks; Chrysler Automobiles; National Carbon Company of New York, who have their own factory at Monterrey; Thomas A. Edison, Inc.; Willard Storage Batteries; Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. billiard tables; Lambert Pharmaceutical Company of St. Louis; List-erine; Parke Davis Company, Detroit, pharmaceuticals; William Wrigley Jr. Company; General Electric Company; Otis Elevator Company; Chicago Pneumatic Tool Co.; Atlas Powder Company; Wells Fargo and Company, express; Horlick's Malted Milk of Racine; Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, corn flakes; Pyrene Mfg. Company of Newark, fire extinguishers; American Steel Foundries, Chicago; John B. Stetson Company, Philadelphia, hats; Deere Plow Company; International Harvester Co., and many others. Indeed it would be quite impossible to list all of the American firms that today have branches in Mexico.

Surely Mexico is a promising market for any product she is able to consume but does not produce.

The serious expressions of these Spitz puppies, owned by Fred Craft of Chili, N. Y., must be due to an early realization that, whatever the future holds, they are in for a dog's life. Or maybe they are a bit put out in the realization that, as quintuplets, they have to take second place to those five Dionne girls up in Canada.

The banana business in Mexico is largely controlled by the United Fruit Company and Standard Fruit Company, and the tobacco business largely by the American Tobacco Company.

Mexico welcomes the help of American capital and American capital is glad to avail itself of the opportunities Mexico offers; opportunities for legitimate profit because the natural resources of Mexico are great and have never been really utilized and developed. When this utilization and development will have become a fact, Mexico will be one of the most prosperous nations in the world.

Hardroads, Schools

Mexico's modern railroads and the new hardroads will combine with aviation and the radio to bring Mexico closer to Illinois. The Republic has good railroad facilities that are constantly being improved, in total about 8500 miles of track. The gross earnings of the National Railways of Mexico increased more than 25 per cent in 1934 over 1933 and tonnage hauled during that period showed an increase of nearly thirty per cent. $60,000,000 is being spent now to rehabilitate the National Railways and extend their lines. The Rock Island Lines offer good service connections to Mexico at El Paso, Texas. The Missouri Pacific runs its de luxe air cooled equipment through from St. Louis to Mexico City, a matter of only two days and three nights. The Southern Pacific has its own line down the West Coast of Mexico from Nogales, Arizona, to Guadalajara, the capital of Jalisco. On Braniff Air Lines you can leave Chicago at 9 P. M. arriving in Mexico City 1:45 the next afternoon, and returning you leave Mexico City at 8 A. M. arriving in Chicago at 9:20 P. M. same day, a matter of only 13 hours and 20 minutes.

Hardroads are being built all over Mexico. The new Pan-American highway, connecting all United States roads direct to Mexico City, via San Antonio, is officially opened, but I do not recommend it until after January first. A few miles are still diabolical. When really finished it will be one of the most gorgeous, scenic highways on earth, 763 miles from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City. All the State Capitals are being connected with hardroads, most of the work being done with American machinery and under the direction of American engineers. These hardroads will greatly influence not only the tourist trade in Mexico, but the development of the country and account for the now leaping market in Mexico for automobiles and accessories.

No other nation in the world is doing, on such a large scale, the job of school building you find in Mexico. In the last five years 13,000 rural schools have been built and illiteracy has already been reduced 85 per cent to less than 50 per cent. City schools of the most modern architecture and equipment have been built, or are under construction in all the cities. Education is compulsory. The trend is practically, reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic in the lower schools and manual training, domestic science, commercial, personal and social hygiene, government and social responsibility, in the high schools. The revival of education in Mexico is particularly interesting because of the country's deep cultural background. The University of Mexico, founded in 1551 (85 years before the founding of Harvard) had already graduated 4,000 men and women before our Declaration of Independence was signed. The first book to be printed in the New World was printed in Mexico a century before there was a printing press in the United States. The first sheet music to be printed on this continent was printed in Mexico. Painting was taught in Mexico 99 years before the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. Grand opera is appreciated in Mexico City by rich and poor alike, to a far greater, deeper, fuller extent than I have noticed on Michigan Avenue or Wacker Drive.

Natural Resources

Cecil Rhodes named Mexico the treasure house of the world, and Arthur Brisbane has made the statement, in his famous column that the undeveloped resources of Mexico are greater than all the developed resources of the rest of North America. The four great natural resources of Mexico are Timber, Minerals, Oil and Agriculture.

Most of Mexico's vast areas are treeless. Those sections that produce timber make up for it by producing timber, especially hardwoods, of exceptional quality, size and beauty. With the hardwoods of the United States so nearly depleted, the forests of nearby Mexico are getting attention. Our Gulf cities, such as Pensacola, Mobile, Biloxi, Gulfport, New Orleans, Lake Charles, Galveston, Houston and others, all once had flourishing sawmills, now closed or soon to be closed because the available domestic timber is about gone. The importation of tropical hardwoods from Mexico, only a three day water haul across the Gulf, has already re-established some of these mills, will mean much to the Gulf cities in utilizing their large capital investments in mills and re-employing their armies of skilled mill workers. Sawmill cities up the Mississippi Deep Waterway, and the Ohio River and Missouri River tributaries, will also benefit. Sawmills and wood-working plants in Memphis, Helena, Louisville, Evansville, and other river cities are already interested in these Mexican woods. I know of one large plant that is right now seriously considering moving to Cairo, Illinois. Because of Mexico's favorable location with a distance of only 60 miles from the heart of these forests to both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, she also occupies the best geographical position in the world for shipments to the Orient or Europe as well as all United States ports on the Atlantic and Pacific.

From an oil standpoint, Mexico also occupies a position of major world importance. Since the first productive well was completed in 1901 until the first of this year Mexico has produced 1,736,762,000 barrels of oil, and is at the present time producing 3,000,000 barrels per month with no legal restrictions such as curtailed production or pro-ration as handicaps United States producers. One well in Mexico, the famous Potrero del Llano No. 4 is the most prolific in the world, having alone produced since 1910, 115,000,000 barrels and still producing. While the Tampico field, source of many of the Do-heny millions is world famous, it is now being outdone by the Tehuantepec field, and the Isthmus of Tehuantepec is rapidly becoming one of the world's greatest oil producing sections. Subsidiaries of Standard Oil, Sinclair and Shell are dominating factors in Mexico's oil production, together with many prosperous independents, owned both by Mexican and foreign capital.

The most highly developed of all Mexican industries is Mining. About two-thirds of all the silver produced in the world has come from Mexico. Other principal minerals are gold, copper, lead, antimony, molybdenum, platinum, mercury, arsenic, manganese, nickel, iron, zinc, graphite, coal, tin, cadmium, mica, marble, tungsten, borax, salt, bismuth and sulphur. Turquoise, opals, garnets and tourmalines are also mined. Most all of the Republic is mineralized but the most famous mining areas are in the states of Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Jalisco, Durango, Guerrero, Mexico, Oaxaca and Chiapas. Smelters are located at Monterrey, Torreon, Aguascalientes, San Luis Potosi, Velardena, Mapimi, Chihuahua, El Paso and Salt Lake. The American Smelting and Refining Co., and the U. S. Smelting and Refining Co., their subsidiaries are among the largest operators in Mexico. The Mexico College of Mines is 143 years old, having been established in 1792. And yet, it is safe to say the surface has hardly been scratched, and until very recently most mining in Mexico has been conducted by primitive methods.

Agriculture is Mexico's most universal industry. Here you still see the wooden plow and the ox in one field and perhaps the most modern J. I. Case or International Harvester equipment in the adjoining field. Undoubtedly Mexico's agricultural future will be closely linked to the United States. The opportunity is unlimited in the line of products we consume but can not produce. For instance we consume more bananas, coffee, and rubber than any nation on earth. These products we can not produce. Already we get most of our bananas from Mexico. But we are largely dependent upon Brazil for coffee and Great Britain for rubber. Mexico also produces pineapple. We import large quantities of sisal for binder twine from Mexico, and Wrigley gets his chicle from Mexico. Mexico gave chocolate and vanilla to the world. Mexico's principal agricultural exports are bananas, tomatoes, cattle, milk, combed wool, cotton, corn, coffee and pineapples. Mexico's Agricultural Colleges are modern and new experimental farms are now being established in twelve states, each specializing on the problems of its district.

Tourist Will Find

The American tourist has at last discovered Mexico. In June 7,265 tourists, mostly from the United States, registered in Mexico City, the all-time record. In 1933 our tourists spent $28,000,000 in Mexico, $41,000,000 in 1934 and the estimate for 1935 is placed over $60,000,000.

New York City's population has multiplied 150 times since 1790. The population of the United States as a whole has multiplied only 32 times in the same period.

Chicago, not New York, is the original home of the skyscraper.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

A STATE TO SETTLE A DEBT

THE great state of Pennsylvania, where valuable industries thrive and great fortunes have been accumulated, was given away in payment of a debt, a little over 250 years ago. That debt, amounting to only $50,000, was owed by King Charles II of England to Admiral Penn, father of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania.

In 1932 the United States issued a stamp showing a picture of this humanitarian Quaker, on the 250th anniversary of the founding of this colony. He came from England in 1682 and laid out the city of Philadelphia, after purchasing the land from the Indians. In 1701, however, he had to hurry back to England to prevent abrogation of his royal charter by Parliament. While there he heard that his fortunes at home had been depleted.

Word of disension among his followers in Pennsylvania, in addition, caused him to offer his rights to the colony in America for sale at about $60,000. Before the sale could be completed, however, he was stricken with paralysis and died, in 1718.

Traveling Around America

A FAMOUS WINDOW

THIS descendant of the Incas sits in one of the most ancient windows in the New World. It is an aperture in a temple from which, legend tells us, three brothers, each stepping from separate windows, started out to gather together the Indians from various tribes in the Andes, to join them in establishing the empire of the "Children of the Sun"—an idea which led to the founding of Cuzco, capital of the Inca Empire in 1100 A. D.

The window is part of the ruins of Machu Picchu, a granite city with perhaps the most unbelievable location in the world. It is perched along the crest of a sheer cliff, topped by a needle-like pinnacle, rising thousands of feet from the black canyon of the Urubamba Valley with the raging river twisting in U-shape around three sides of its base and higher mountain peaks surrounding it. The ruins, discovered in 1911, are considered the most fascinating in the New World, and one of the most interesting sights awaiting travelers taking the weekly cruises from New York to Peru.

No one knows how the city was built at such a dizzy height but there it is—a maze of fountain-studded courts and roofless houses connected by narrow streets and hundreds of stairways, with traces of towers and temples and dizzy bastions clinging to the edge of steep precipices—a marvelously fortified city which some archeologists believe was built as a refuge for priests, nobles, and temple virgins who fled from the Spanish conquerors.

Battles With Game Fish Reduced Pres. Roosevelt's Weight

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Battling with a deep sea game fish on his recent cruise took just two and a half pounds off President Roosevelt's weight.

Captain Ross T. McIntire of the navy medical corps, who was a member of the presidential party, said the president stepped on the scales upon his return and the dial showed 186 pounds. Before the vacation, the chief executive weighed 188½.

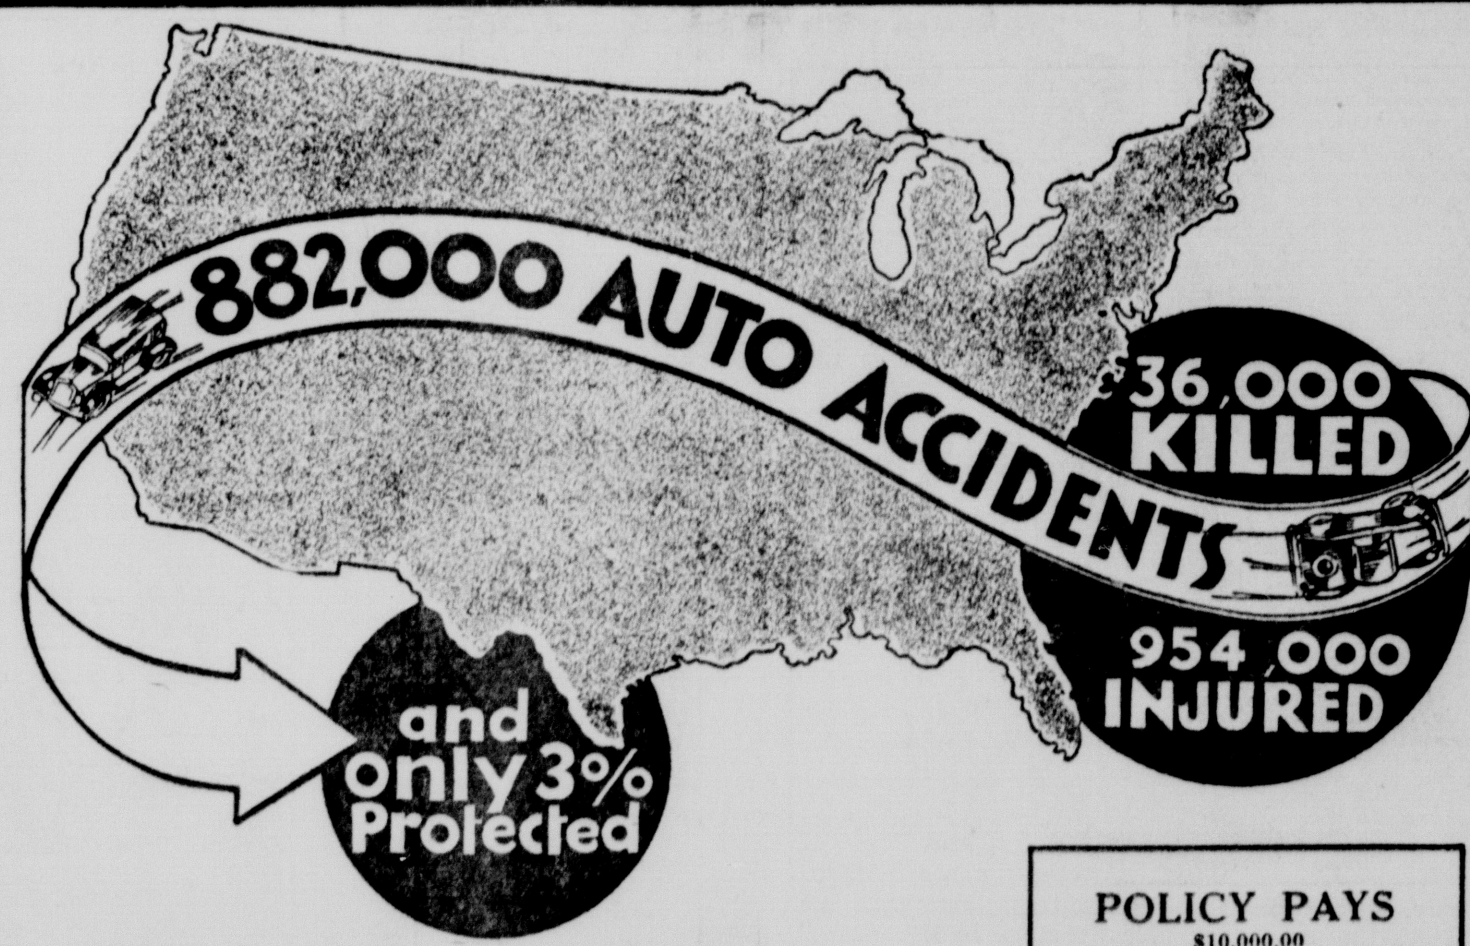

mately the president's normal weight.

"Yes, sir," said the captain, "he never was in better health than he is today."

The total national wealth of the United States was estimated at 264.4 billion dollars in 1934 as compared with 237.2 billions in 1933 and 226.7 in 1932.

Last year, railroads had one fatality every 400,000,000 passenger miles, and automobiles one fatality every 11,000,000 miles.

New York City still contains approximately 20,000 horses and 600 stables to house them.

The above illustration tells the story — Think of it! approximately 1,000,000 persons injured. Over 36,000 killed — each year — in automobile accidents, while driving, riding or walking on streets—EVERYONE needs all the protection they can secure against hazard of all time.

As a special service, we offer you a policy issued by the NORTH AMERICAN ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY, which provides valuable protection against automobile, pedestrian and other accidents at a cost so low that you cannot afford to be without it.

BIG TEN TEAMS IN FAST ACTION LOOP SCRAMBLE

Purdue To Attempt Deposition of Minnesota

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The meeting of those gridiron giants, Notre Dame and Ohio State, dominates Saturday's football scene, but more strictly Big Ten business packs promise of robust thrills.

While Notre Dame's fighting Irish and the "Scarlet Scourge" are staging their battle to remain in the national championship picture before a capacity crowd at Columbus, Purdue will tackle Minnesota, the leading claimant to 1934 nationwide honors, at Minneapolis; Indiana meets Iowa's undefeated eleven at Iowa City, and Illinois plays Northwestern at Evanston. In addition, Michigan will seek its second triumph in two weeks over an eastern foe, entertaining Pennsylvania at Ann Arbor. Chicago and Wisconsin have open dates.

Favorites Came Through
As expected, Ohio State disposed of Indiana Saturday to join Michigan and Purdue in a tie for first place in the championship standing. The big, powerful men from Columbus whipped the Hoosiers, 28 to 6, but had to come from behind and receive some assistance from breaks. Notre Dame scored a pair of quick touchdowns to break Navy's two-game streak in their series, 14 to 0, then devoted the rest of the afternoon to protecting its margin.

The choice offering of the conference schedule will be Purdue's attempt to hand Minnesota its first beating since 1932. The Boilermakers suffered their first defeat of the season and were scored on for the first time in losing an upset decision to Carnegie Tech, 7 to 0. They have been pointing for the Gophers, however, and probably will be tough enough to cause the 1934 champions distress even if they don't win.

Minnesota conquered Northwestern, but had to level during the whole 60 minutes. The Wildcats, getting better and better, led at the half, 13 to 7, but couldn't stop Clarence (Tuffy) Thompson and went under, 21 to 13.

Simmons Makes Good
Iowa, with Oze Simmons and Dick Crayne living up to all advance notices, belted Illinois out of consideration as a championship contender by a smashing 19 to 0 victory. The Hawkeye triumph could not be regarded as an upset, but the size of the score was definitely surprising. The slippery Simmons contributed a 71 yard run for the first touchdown, and gained most of Iowa's total yardage. Crayne was good for two touchdowns.

Chicago escaped going through the season without a victory by overcoming Wisconsin, 13 to 7, and Michigan added another star to the Big Ten's intersectional crown with a 19 to 7 decision over Columbia.

People's Column

BY B. W. SNOW
Bartlett Frazier Co.

President Roosevelt has announced that the A. A. A. is to be a permanent program of government control of farm production and forecasted the use of a single farm contract to cover all crops instead of separate agreements for each crop. The intention to make permanent government control of production has been repeatedly charged and denied and the A. A. A. operation has been officially justified as being merely an emergency program.

The shift from a temporary emergency basis to a permanent control occasions no surprise for those who have watched bureaucratic grasping for increased power through the regimentation of agriculture. The step is a perfectly natural one for those who believe in the nationalization of industry but it forecasts a program which is to eventually destroy or make worthless ownership of farm lands by assuming government control of land use and crop production.

The one farm control plan is, in effect, the placing of a permanent lien upon the land through which the government, by a contract which runs with the land has the power to determine what shall or shall not be grown upon each farm acre. Up to this time the farmer has only bound himself in each contract in the matter of growing a single crop, but under this one farm one contract plan the pain is put into control of Washington so far as all crops are concerned. The owner of a farm thus encumbered becomes merely the farm manager to carry out experimentation ordered by Washington swivel chair bureaucrats.

TOILERS FOR BREAD IN VALAIS, SWITZERLAND

Bread is indeed the staff of life in the many beautiful Alpine valleys of the Valais, in Switzerland. I do, of course, not refer to the crisp "croissants" and rolls which, together with jammy curled butter, honey and dairy, form such an enjoyable part of a Swiss hotel breakfast, but am thinking of those plain round loaves of dark rye bread whose evolution, from beginning to end, is achieved through the tireless, strenuous labor of the natives.

The peasants in these secluded mountain regions live mostly from their own products. Oats and barley are cultivated in relatively small proportions, for a negligible quantity of white flour and as feed for the cattle. Rye, however, for bread is grown extensively on every sunny, sheltered slope. Thus one encounters the loftiest grain fields in Europe near the summer village of Flindelen, 7,099 feet a.s. above Zermatt. The diminutive patches of ground climb in terrace fashion up the mountainside and all are carefully supported with stone walls.

In the month of August the harvest is cut with sickles, the long stubble left behind serving as fertilizer. To eliminate all waste the rather short sheaves are deposited on a cloth and the farmer then carries bundle after bundle to his granary. Here the sheaves remain until threshing time in winter.

Every village has its own primitive flour mill. One of the farmers undertakes the operation of it and receives as compensation usually 1-20th part of the grain, of which he has in turn to give half to the community. The bran is not separated from the rye flour, which accounts for the dark color and the remarkable tastiness of the bread.

Baking is done in the municipal oven, a rather crude affair of stones and bricks, which, surmounted by a roof of wooden boards, stands somewhere in the open. The Valaisan housewives bake in turn about once every 4-7 weeks. On their baking day they carry their dough in wooden forms to the public oven and when all their many loaves are done—the average oven affords space for about 20 loaves at one time—they store them carefully on elevated racks in the barn.

In the Latschen Valley, where ancient traditions are held sacred, it is customary for a godfather to present his future godchild with a huge round bread cake, weighing from seven to eight pounds, and ornamented with curious designs. Since bread is the main sustenance of these people, the custom probably signifies that the godfather assumes joint responsibility with the parents for looking after the welfare of the infant.

Valaisian rye bread is a most wholesome food. For city dwellers accustomed to soft white, but far less nutritious bread, it may be somewhat difficult to eat, on account of its hardness, but this very fact is responsible for the excellent strong teeth which these unspoiled people of the Alps possess.

MARIE WIDMER.

AMUSEMENTS

ERLANGER THEATRE

Chicago has seen Walter Huston in the star role of "Dodsworth" and has acclaimed both the actor and the play with unstinted praise. The critics were unanimous in declaring this dramatization of Sinclair Lewis' famous novel by Sidcliff Howard as the best theatrical entertainment to visit the Mid-west in the last ten years, and the public has substantiated their opinion by flocking to fill the Erlanger theatre at every performance. The flattering reception given this splendid Max Gordon offering is but a repetition of the ovation given both Mr. Huston and "Dodsworth" in New York, where they played for 42 continuous weeks before starting on the road.

Charles Collins, critic of the Chicago Tribune, declares Huston's "Dodsworth" as one of the most notable stage successes of the year. He goes on to say that Max Gordon staged the piece with the superb finesse that has made him a contemporary Belasco. "Dodsworth," he adds, "is a rich adventure in playacting, modern in treatment but free from all ultra modern annoyances."

Ashton Stevens, dean of American dramatic reviewers, writes: "Certainly Walter Huston's Sam Dodsworth belongs in the nation's gallery of classic dramatic portraits as memory shows them to me and nothing that you or I can say will blast it out. I have seen Huston's Dodsworth only once, so far yet already I believe it has become for me what I and others too often and too lightly term a classic."

The other critics were equally fulsome in their praise, but space is lacking to quote them all. Suffice to say that anyone visiting "Dodsworth" will be repaid for his or her trouble and expense. It is a big show in every sense of the word, requiring 14 scenes and two revolving stages, and a company of 40 actors for its telling. Its visit in Chicago is a limited one, for other cities are already clamoring for the fulfillment of their dates.

Hallowe'en Pranks Tabooed in Helena
Helena, Mont., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Helena, still jittery from two weeks of earthquakes, will have no Hallowe'en pranks this year, police have decided. The quakes moved enough outbuildings and rattled enough windows to last the city for a long time, the department said and added that even youngsters using harmless tick-larks will be arrested.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

The new Sunday school year begun Oct. 1 with Roy Glessner as superintendent, and the members and friends of the church will be delighted to know that the attendance for October shows a 25 per cent gain over October of one year ago. The Sunday school classes are to be complimented for their fine work and cooperation in working together in such an efficient manner. The church has been financing some improvement projects almost continuously for the past two years paying as they go, meeting obligations as due. A furnace is now being installed, and will soon be completed, making an efficient heating plant for the church, and is being paid for by the Sunday school classes, and other organizations of the church, and most of the money is already raised.

The Sunday services yesterday showed a spirit of reverence and worship coupled with a spirit of good-will and loyalty that always leaves lasting impressions for good.

Tonight the young people's Sunday school class will hold a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Butterbaugh, all members and friends of the class are invited to attend.

Wednesday evening, at 7:30 the second chapter of Titus will be the lesson, and the pastor will read a diary kept by Rev. and Mrs. Thompson while in a revival meeting in Indiana just recently. All are invited to this service.

The church is looking forward to a great spiritual uplift in a revival campaign which will begin Nov. 10. It is believed that the spirit of the church will be such as to insure a spiritual meeting when souls will be born into the kingdom. Preparations are being made for a great awakening at this time. All members and friends of the church should keep these meetings in mind.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ITEMS

Bible school attendance yesterday was 257. The rain affected the attendance of all the classes. The adult classes reported as follows: Men, 28; Frilohas, 28; True Blue, 26; Upstreamers, 25; Young Men, 23; Progressives, 17.

The girls from Mrs. Hazel Emmert's class gave an interesting Temperance exercise in the closing services of the school yesterday. Elwin Patch gave a fine talk on total abstinence.

The Christian Endeavor had a helpful discussion upon, "The Effects of Alcohol Upon the Nation" last evening.

A Hallowe'en party will be held in the church basement tonight by the C. E. Society. It will be a costume party and all young folks are invited.

The True Blue Class will go to Polo Tuesday and have a scrambled dinner at the home of Mrs. Ora Carpenter.

The Executive Committee of the Women's Missionary Society will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 at the home of Mrs. W. C. Stauffer, 215 Lincoln Way.

The Progressive Class will have a Hallowe'en party at the home of A. L. Huffman on Pennsylvania avenue Tuesday evening at 7:30.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. H. W. Stauffer, Wednesday for an all-day meeting with a scrambled dinner at noon.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Choir rehearsal Friday evening at 7:15.

The C. I. C. Class will have a Hallowe'en party Friday night at the church.

The Juniors will meet at the church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. Nadine Moats in charge. Bring material for scrap books.

The Junior Department will give a special Father's Day program next Sunday at the close of the Bible School session.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 27.

The Golden Text was, "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be" (Ecclesiastes 11:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." So we read in Ecclesiastes. This text has been transformed into the popular proverb, "As the tree falls, so it must lie." As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change" (p. 201).

BETHEL CHURCH

Hallowe'en Party
The Truthseekers class and the Young Men's class will sponsor a Hallowe'en party Tuesday night, Oct. 29 at a hall near Penrose. Everyone is to come in costume. All are requested to meet at the church at 7 o'clock so that all may go together.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce O 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, denies her answer when BOBBY WALSH, automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him.

At the Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARRISON, whose business connection is with a money lender. Bobby introduces Bobby to Mr. and Mrs. LEWIS. Bobby arranges to sell some of his cars for Lewis. He sells them to Bobby. Federal men go to Lewis' apartment, but he and his wife have disappeared. Jean helps Sandy convince police he had nothing to do with a recent holdup. She goes to her home town for a vacation. Sandy comes to see her. Jean has recalled that Sandy was not with her at the time she told police he was. She asks him to explain.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIII

FOR a long moment after Jean had demanded that he explain his doings to her, she looked at her steadfastly.

"I reckon I'd better tell you the whole story," he said softly. "I'd been to all along, but somehow I just kept putting it off. It'd been better if I'd spoken."

She waited, breathless, looking up at him with that expression by which a girl unwittingly tells a man, "Please, please tell me some sort of story—any sort of story—that I can believe so I can stop doubting you." Again he patted her hand gently.

"It starts a long time ago," he said, the western drawl in his voice more pronounced than ever. "Back in Oklahoma. I was just a kid, then, and kind of wild. Another fellow and I got into a scrape. Fact of the matter, we'd got to sort of helling around that little town we lived in, and we fell in with a bunch that used to play cards and drink pretty heavy. Anyhow—"

He looked away once more, as if staring beyond the green coconuts of the little park to the open range of the west.

"This fellow and I, we were working on a cattle ranch outside of town," he went on presently. "One Saturday the boss had us take a bunch of yearlings in to the shipping point. We were to take 'em in and sell 'em, there in the town, and then of course come back with the money next day. Well, we got in all right, and sold 'em—got about $200. This other fellow kept the money, and then he and I set out to have some fun before starting back."

"Well, like I said, we were young and wild then. We fell in with these birds I mentioned, and we each got more or less of a skunk. I remember I finally fell asleep in a little room back of a poolroom. When I came to it was after dark, and here was Rags—that was what we called this side-kick of mine—standing there looking like some body that'd been sent for and couldn't come.

"I was still kind of muddled, and I asked him what the matter was. Well, it seems he'd got into a poker game and got cleaned. Not only lost all his money, but also lost that $200 we were supposed to take back to the boss.

"So there we were. I remember Rags saying, 'You're in this just as much as I am,' and I was still so kind of hazy I didn't argue with him. So we sat there, and Rags had a bottle, and he said we'd have a drink and get straightened up so we could think what to do—and of course we just got worse.

"Anyhow, after a while Rags got an idea. There's a moving picture house down the street a ways, and being Saturday night there'd be sure to be a big crowd in it. So Rags said we'd go down and—stick the place up, and get our money that way. M he hadn't been drunk he'd never in the world have dreamed of doing a thing like that, and if I'd been myself I'd have talked him out of it.

"But we were both—well, pretty well crooked. I had just sense enough not to like the idea, and I argued and argued, but it was no use. Finally Rags said, 'Well, I'm going to do it, and if you're too yellow to come along, why to hell with you.' So he started out. He'd got a gun somewhere—I don't know where.

"I followed him. I had some hazy notion of stopping him, or of warning the theater people, or taking the gun away from him; anyway, I followed. He got ahead of me, and I ran to catch up. I overtook him just as he got up to the ticket window of the movie house and stuck his gun on the cashier.

"Well, something went wrong. I don't know how it happened, but Rags—he pulled the trigger, and shot her. Killed her instantly. Then there was an awful tumult, and I remember running off in the dark as fast as I could go. I must've wandered down into the freight yards and shaken people off my track; anyway, next morning I came to in a box car, 50 miles out of town and still traveling.

"I was scared green when I remembered what had happened. I stopped off at a city down near the Oklahoma-Texas line, and lay low waiting to find out how things stood. Then I learned they'd got Rags. The cops had chased him and shot him, and he'd died on the way to jail; but before he died he'd gone and put all the blame on me—so here I was, wanted for murder."

HE stopped and patted her hand slowly once more.

"Well, there it is," he said at last. "I had to keep going. I left Oklahoma and I never went back. I came out this way, got into business, and did well. But all the time that thing's been hanging over me."

"This business up in Dover was like I told you—just a case of mistaken identity. But do you see—I didn't dare get arrested, even for something I hadn't done. Because I did, as Mike as not they'd start checking up in the files, the way they always do, and they'd find the handbills that were sent out from Oklahoma years ago—'Wanted: For Murder,' with a photograph, description, and everything."

"I'd be sent back to Oklahoma, and just as sure as you're a foot high I'd be sent up. So when I found out about this up in Dover, I—well, I got panicky."

He looked at her and grinned ruefully.

"As a matter of fact, I'd been in a movie that Friday afternoon," he went on. "But who'd have believed me? How could I have proved it? I couldn't have."

"So—I took advantage of you. You didn't remember what day we'd been out together, and it was too easy. And that fellow at the boothhouse, he didn't remember either. I went out to see him, and I had him talked into thinking it had all happened on Friday, instead of Thursday, before he knew what was going on."

He paused and looked at her soberly.

"I ask your pardon for having lied to you and got you mixed up in it," he said solemnly. "Can you forgive me?"

Pity welled up in her. She squeezed his hand and said, "Oh, Sandy, of course! But why didn't you tell me?"

"I should have," he admitted. "I wish I had. But—well, I guess I was afraid to. You see, I—his eyes burned into hers—"I was afraid you'd not want to see me again, if you knew about this Oklahoma business."

"But it wasn't your fault!" she protested eagerly.

"I know, but I couldn't be sure you'd look at it that way." "You poor boy," she said softly, after a pause. "Is this—this thing always going to be hanging over you?"

HE looked up and brightened.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you about that part of it," he said. "You see, I told Mr. Montague all about it. He'd handled some legal business for a friend of mine, was how I happened to hear about him and go to him."

"He said he'd put a private detective agency to work, digging up evidence, and he was sure he could get enough proof to convince the authorities back there of the truth of the matter. He's got those people working on it now. Before the end of the summer he ought to be all cleared up. Then, I can come and go like anybody else, with nothing to be afraid of."

He squared his shoulders and threw his head back, and Jean gave a sigh of relief.

"Sandy?" she said. "I'm so glad."

She did not stop to analyze her emotions, to figure out why this last bit of news was like the lifting of a weight from her heart. She did not realize that subconsciously she was thinking, "I'd never dare marry a man who had something like that hanging over him," nor did she realize that the ways of happiness that were ever hers at the promise that the affair would be cleared up presently meant that she would be ready to marry this particular man, after all.

Sandy looked around. The bench was secluded by clumps of bushes and trees, and the park was deserted as only a small-town park in the midwest can be deserted. He put his arm about her shoulders, almost imperceptibly, she noticed against him.

"Then you don't mind my—lying to you?" he said softly. She looked at him and smiled.

"Not any more," she said. "I was awfully mad when I first discovered it. But I don't care now."

"Sure?"

"You're wonderful. I'm going to ask you the same thing I asked you the other day. Will you marry me?"

OHIO BACK NOW LEADS BIG TEN SCORING RACE

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—"Jumping Joe" Williams, operating with Ohio State's powerful aggregation, and Johnny Wilson, Wisconsin halfback, whose team hasn't won a game this season, were tied today for the Big Ten football scoring leadership at 18 points.

Williams scored two touchdowns Saturday as the Buckeyes downed Indiana, 28 to 7. Wilson accounted for the Badger touchdown as they lost to Chicago, 13 to 7. Jay Berwanger did all the Chicago point-producing and ranked third with 13 points.

The leaders:

FREE-FOR-ALL LOOMS AS STATE ASSEMBLY MEETS

Political Rivalries and Campaign Issues Seen as Basis of Battle

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Political rivalries and campaign issues forecast a free-for-all as the Illinois legislature assembled today for its eleventh session in 48 months to act on a group of emergency problems.

State participation in the social security movement is the first order of business when the 99th general assembly's first special session convenes at 8 P. M. to hear Governor Horner's message.

Coming when the Republican opposition and possibly the Democratic majority are ready to plunge into the April primary fight for the governorship and other presidential year political prizes, there were prospects that the session might be prolonged by the traditional deadlocks in efforts to get two-thirds emergency majorities in house and senate.

Controversial Issues

Controversial issues on which legislation is asked include unemployment insurance, reclassification of insurance laws, protection of laborers from occupational diseases, traffic regulation, responsibility for local relief and the time of state aid payments to schools.

Debates may furnish a preview of next year's campaign oratory, with full opportunity for partisan arguments. The leadership of both parties is in an uncertain status. A large group of Republicans eye the governorship, some of them being in the legislature. On the Democratic side, the desire of Horner for a second term in the executive mansion have received little encouragement from Democratic leaders in Cook county and some of the downstaters.

The old and bitter fight over unemployment relief still generated trouble under the surface, with Republicans and some Democrats expected to seize again the chance to attack the Illinois Emergency relief commission and the federal-state financing of the jobs.

Tax Cut Possible

State Treasurer John Stelle, mentioned as a possible opponent of Horner in the April primary, heaped coals on the agitation for a reduction of the sales tax with a report to the relief commission that a one per cent cut would be possible by Jan. 1. Stelle said the increase last July was to take care of the state relief burden and that WPA and the social security program would eliminate the load.

His statement didn't help the administration. The governor and his aids have given serious thought to a possible reduction, but they don't care to be put on a spot with a definite date and feared the assembly would talk about Stelle's statement.

The governor's hope for early adjournment was dimmed by a rather general belief that a Christmas recess might be necessary and the prospect that other special sessions again might be necessary. On social security, the problem is to:

Security Problem

1. Make necessary amendments in the Illinois old age pension act, passed in June, so that it can become operative January 1 and qualify for federal funds to pay half of the $1 a day promised destitute persons of 65.

2. Decide whether and how Illinois is to have a system of unemployment compensation.

3. Provide for administration of the security program, which includes the already operative pensions for mothers and the blind.

Labor leaders, openly critical of the treatment given their bills at the regular session ending in June, were determined to get enactments to the occupational diseases and the health, safety and comfort acts, made partly inoperative by a Supreme Court decision.

VITAMIN B AND BERIBERI

When vitamin B was first described by McCollum in 1915, it was thought to be identical with the so-called antineuritic vitamin of the Polish scientist Funk. The antineuritic vitamin was so named because of earlier observations (1897) made by the famous Dr. Eijkman.

Dr. Eijkman, while in the Dutch colonial service in Java, established that the peculiar paralysis disease which was suffered by certain of the prisoners on the island, was due to the absence in their diet of a certain essential element. This element he found present in rice husk (the part of the rice grain reject-

SOLDIERS KEEP HIGHWAY BOARD OUT OF OFFICE

South Carolina's Chief Executive Calls Out Militia in Fight

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Governor Olin D. Johnston today declared the state highway commission "in a state of insurrection," ordered National Guard machine gunners to keep commissioners out of their offices, and named a board to supervise the affairs of the department.

The governor's "state of insurrection" proclamation ordered removal from office of all commissioners, including Chief Commissioner Ben M. Sawyer, whose regime has been the object of attacks by the governor since long before his election.

Joe Calus, Spartanburg accountant who assisted in a highway department audit, was designated as executive manager of the board, and Wade Saunders of Anderson, Francis Drake of Greenville, Robert Gregory of Cheraw, W. M. Smoak, of Aiken, and Walter Staley, Jr. of Conway, the latter a member of the road board and Johnston adviser, were named consulting managers.

Flat Auto Rate

A statement from the executive offices said the board of managers would prepare immediately to extend the time for buying auto tags perhaps 15 days, after which Calus said the flat $3 tags advocated by the governor would be sold for all private cars and trucks of not more than one and one-half tons, subject to confirmation or revision by the 1936 legislature.

The governor is issuing his proclamation of a state of insurrection said:

"As governor of South Carolina, I am today placing the highway department under the control of the people. Your command as expressed at the ballot box last summer is being carried out, and acting in your name and in your behalf, I am taking charge of this department, to end tricky and subterfuge, favoritism and irregularities that have been characteristic of its management."

Roy A. Powell, secretary to the governor, announced the executive move less than 48 hours after four members of the state highway commission had forestalled claims to their posts by Johnston appointees by obtaining Supreme Court restraining orders. The litigation was set for hearing November 11.

House Committee's Records Ransacked

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Department of Justice agents and police are seeking to determine who broke into the House rules committee room in the Capitol building recently and ransacked files used in the utilities lobbying investigation.

Chairman O'Connor, (D-N. Y.) disclosed upon his return from vacation that two attempts—one successful and the other not—had been made to break into his office. He said a check of the files showed them intact.

"I considered it something of a joke," he added.

Justice Department officials took fingerprints from desks and the jumbled door, but reported they were smudged.

TROOP 67

Our weekly meeting and Halloween party was held at the home of Scout Horace Schwab. Twelve Scouts were present. There was election of patrol officers for the coming year and the announcement of a contest on advancement which begins Nov. 1st and ends Jan. 1st, 1936. A suitable prize will be given the winning patrol.

Games were played during the evening and a champion tie contest held. Scout Leader Rinehart won this contest when asked to tell his lie.

"I cannot tell a lie, I never told one."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Schwab and were they ever well! Earl Charvat led the Scout Benediction and our meeting came to a close with many thanks to Mrs. Schwab for her hospitality.

JOLLY 25 BOYS CLUB PRESENTED PLAY THURSDAY

Two-Act Play, "Laughing Cure" Given at State Hospital

Members of the Jolly 25 Boys' club at the Dixon State Hospital, Thursday night presented the two act comedy, "The Laughing Cure" before a large and appreciative audience at the institution amusement hall.

The plot revolved around a Laura Hanson who had the misfortune to be born without a sense of humor. Her mental attitude led to a chronic dyspepsia. Her physician placed the case with his nephew, a fresh arrival from college who prescribed, "one laugh every thirty minutes" as a cure for her trouble.

Her difficulties in taking the "treatment" were gradually overcome. Mr. Hanson who had almost forgotten how to laugh spread the nature of the treatment throughout the town until every man, woman, and child laughed with Laura. This was to the consternation of her doleful friend, Mrs. Perry, but the complete satisfaction of her own household and physician.

The State Hospital band furnished the music. Following was the cast of characters:

Dr. St. George Carey—A modern invention who turns the trick—Harold Burkhard.

Jimmie Mason—Mrs. Hanson's brother who knows his sister—Mr. H. Lee.

Dr. Whitcomb—A physician of the old school—Isadore Ginsberg.

Clark Hanson—A man of business—Erie Lounsberry.

Laura Hanson—His wife, with no sense of humor—William Knuppen.

Gay Hanson—His sister, who lives up to her name—Conrad Muhr.

Kitty Clyde—His stenographer, of the Auntie Doleful school—Arnold Jaeger.

Mary Ellen Perry—A neighbor of the Auntie Doleful school—Arnold Jaeger.

Norah—The maid, who catches the fever—Ernest Radke.

Sam—The messenger, who joins in also—Walter Evans.

Tars of Fleet Hosts to Citizenry in All Seaports

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The tars of the fighting fleet played host to the citizenry today in a Navy Day observance high-spotted by the launching of two fast destroyers and the laying of a heavy cruiser's keel at Philadelphia.

Along the seaboards, wherever a ship of the fleet was in port, the public was invited to go aboard and see how the sailors work and live. Shore stations also were open to public inspection on this 15th Navy Day.

Though the fleet is based on California ports, many of the vessels are on the eastern seaboard.

Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, travelled to Philadelphia for a speech in honor of the launching of the destroyers Cassin and Shaw, and the laying of the keel of the Wichita, last heavy cruiser allowed under the present treaties curbing naval strength.

The launching was on a radio broadcast program, which also included a description of how recruits are put through the mill at the Great Lakes training station, Chicago.

The Marines got out their bombing planes for a demonstration in Washington, while the Hudson river at New York City was selected as the scene for a submarine "crash dive" demonstration. From San Diego, Cal., a radio description of a man-of-war was in order.

Navy Day really fell on Sunday, but the ceremonies were postponed until today because of the Sabbath.

Alignment of V.F.W. and Legion is Sought to Secure Cash Bonus

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Veterans of Foreign Wars have moved to seek alignment with the American Legion in a united front to carry on the fight for the soldiers' bonus at the 1936 session of congress.

The national council of administration of the V. F. W. adopted a resolution calling upon the American Legion to participate in a conference at Washington within the next 30 days, at which it was proposed to adopt a plan of action acceptable to both groups and to set up a "steering committee" for the proposed united bloc.

American Legion acceptance of the bloc would mean concerted action by veterans for the first time since the bonus fight began.

Previously the V. F. W. and the Legion have been in accord on the basic principle of immediate cash payment, but lent their support to different legislative proposals.

At the last session of congress the V. F. W. was behind the so-called inflation bill offered by Representative Wright Patman of Texas and the American Legion campaigned for the "baby bond" measure of Representative Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky.

The Patman bill was passed by both houses but was vetoed by President Roosevelt. The senate sustained the veto by a margin of seven votes.
